LEGISLATURE PROROGUED ON SATURDAY EVENING

Members Conclude Their Labors With Engendering Hard Feelings—Bill Providing for Tax on Unearned Increment Discussed for an Hour and a Half.

The first session of the third legislature of Alberta was prorogued on Saturday night, shortly before 11 o'clock, with the usual accompaniments. The members were bombarded each other with paper balls, cushions and waste paper baskets. The good-byes were said and everybody left in good humor. The session was not productive of hard feelings, and the members left with a much better impression of each other than they had at the beginning.

The closing hours were busy. The bill that took the most time was that providing for a tax upon the unearned increment of land. It was discussed for more than an hour and amended in several particulars.

Increment Tax

Not once during the discussion on the increment tax bill was there any opposition to the principle of the measure. Those members who opposed the bill when it came up for second reading were silent. There was quite a discussion on the section bearing upon the valuation of farm lands to be exempt from the provisions of the bill. All the members who spoke had the same end in view but they differed as to how it should be reached.

Mr. Spencer, of Medicine Hat, characterized the increment tax as class legislation. The government might just as well ask the municipalities to turn over to it a portion of their tax levy.

Mr. Hoadley, of Okotoks, proposed an amendment which would, if enacted, have had the effect of depriving the farmers of the major portion of the increment tax revenue. He wanted the government to turn one-fourth of the revenue into the general fund of the province, the remaining three-fourths to go to the municipality, village, town or city in which it was collected. As by far the greater portion of the revenue will come from the cities, the farmers would receive little or no benefit. The fact is all wrong that improved farms are practically placed beyond the scope of its operations. Until they reach a value of more than $50 an acre they will not come under the law.

Mewata Park Preserved.

The bill to transfer three acres of Mewata Park, Calgary, to the Dominion government for an armory site was defeated in committee of the whole. It should be left to a plebiscite of the ratepayers of Calgary. Hon. Duncan Marshall pointed out that hundreds of laboring men might be induced to vote for the transfer on the ground that they would find employment on the construction work. Others, living in parts of the city far distant from the park, might vote for the transfer on general principles.

Mr. McArthur of Gleichen vigorously opposed the transfer on the ground that it would destroy the value of the best park in Calgary. Thousands of people need the park in summer. It was the principal breathing ground in the city. Other armory sites had been offered, and there was no necessity for spoiling the park by turning it into a parade ground. How would military men be developed if the children were deprived of breathing space?

On the subject of lung development the tall member for Okotoks, Mr. Hoadley, was strangely silent.

The bill to grant the Tipton Investment Co. the right to issue debentures perished in committee. The bill to grant a charter to the Athabasca Gas and Power Transmission Co. was not acted upon and died on the order paper.

His Honor the Lieutenant Governor appeared and gave his assent to the bills, and immediately thereafter the members gave vent to their boyish feelings.

A Few Bouquets

When the work of the session was disposed of, Mr. Hoadley of Okotoks arose and paid a high tribute to the deputy speaker (Mr. Stauffer). He spoke of the able and impartial manner in which the member for Didsbury had performed his duties and said that he and his associates on the opposition side would gladly vote an increase in the allowance for the deputy speaker at the next session. Mr. Hoadley's remarks were received with loud cheers and applause. Mr. Stauffer tried to reply, but his remarks were drowned by applause and song expressive of the high esteem in which he is held by all members.

Hon. J. R. Boyle spoke of the splendid work performed by the standing committees. They had greatly facilitated the work of the house, said Mr. Boyle, and were entitled to the thanks of the members.

Hon. C. R. Mitchell dwelt upon the immense amount of work accomplished and the able manner in which it had been performed. He elicited loud applause when he expressed the regret of himself and the other members on the government side that the leader of the opposition, Mr. Michener, had been compelled by illness to absent himself from the house during the closing days of the session. He hoped that the member for Red Deer would soon recover and resume his important duties.

Hon. A. G. MacKay complimented the members on their spirit and their accomplishments. They had passed some of the most progressive legislation ever enacted on the North American continent, said the member for Athabasca.

The members might have said on the floor what they have often declared in private, that the officials and attaches of the house were the most efficient and competent corps they had ever dealt with. As a parliamentarian and gentleman, Mr. Cowell, the clerk of the house, stands without a peer in Canada. The same may be said of Donald Baker, clerk of the executive council, than whom there is no better executive or more obliging gentleman. His assistant, Mr. Buckley, won the respect and good will of every member by his efficiency, and the pages were all splendid specimens of young Alberta manhood.

MANY WRECKS ON ENGLISH RAILWAYS

Three Killed and 34 Injured in Wreck Sunday at Waterloo Junction.

London, Oct. 27.—In the latest railway accident which occurred yesterday at Waterloo junction a South-Eastern train was wrecked. Three people were killed and 34 injured. This makes the sixth serious accident recently, and creates disquiet in the public mind, especially as all have been of a similar nature, a standing train being run into.

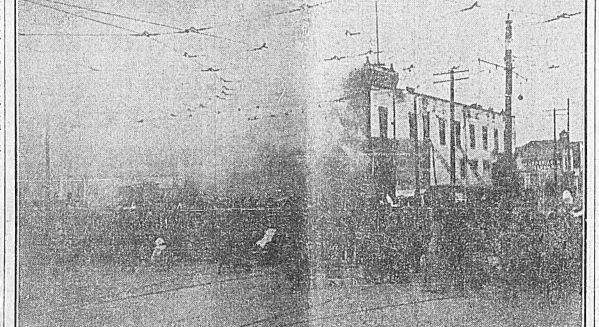
The accidents have not been on one line. Two have occurred on the Great Eastern, one on the Great Western, one on the Midland, one on the Cheshire and Liverpool line, and the last on the South-Eastern. The wrecked block signal system as worked on the British railways seems to be a failure, and it is suggested that the new royal commission should investigate the cause of the accidents.

CAL. CLARK DEAD.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 27.—Calvin W. Clark, familiarly known as "Cal." Clark, and one of the pioneers of Minneapolis, at one time president of the city council, died yesterday at his home, 316 Eleventh avenue, from old age and complications. He was 83 years of age, and until a year ago was vigorous and healthy.

DOUGLAS BROS' DEPARTMENT STORE DESTROYED BY FIRE

SCENE AT FIRE AT DOUGLAS BROS. DEPARTMENT STORE, STRATHCONA.



Wholesalers Send Petition to Commission for Subway

Desire Outlet to be Constructed at Some Central Point Under Canadian Northern Tracks to Afford Room for Development of Wholesale District—Ormsby Wants Protection From C. N. R. Wires.

In the council chamber this morning at 11 o'clock, the city commissioners sat down to an epicurean banquet containing all the hopes, woes and favorite projects of a hundred different companies and individuals.

The most important item transacted at this meeting was the reading and consideration of a letter in the form of a petition signed by the heads of 28 of the largest wholesale firms in this city. This letter is certainly significant of the confidence of Edmonton's leading business men in her future growth and manitude. The communication was as follows:

To the Mayor and council of the city of Edmonton,

Gentlemen,—We, the undersigned wholesale houses, respectfully ask that provision be made for the early construction of a subway under the C.N.R. tracks at some central location in the wholesale district, preferably at 104th street. It is pointed out that 103rd, 104th, and 105th streets and neighboring streets south of the C.N.R. are rapidly developing as a well-defined wholesale district and almost the entire wholesale trade of the city is confined to this district, and present indications are these conditions will be permanent; that most of the future development of the city must necessarily be north of the railways, necessitating a large volume of traffic between the wholesale district and localities north of the tracks and west of 101st street, particularly when development occurs on the Hudson's Bay reserve, and that this traffic should have some more convenient access than is afforded by 101st street.

It is also submitted that a subway in the neighborhood of 104th street would carry off the heavy traffic which otherwise will be concentrated at the 101st street subway, causing congestion, and that the construction of a subway at 104th street before construction of that at 101st street would provide for the traffic which must inevitably occur during the construction of the 101st street subway.

Your petitioners request that your most careful consideration be given to these representations.

After considering the latter in a favorable manner the matter was referred to the council.

Protection From Wires.

Mr. Ormsby of the electric light department is very worried over the exposed condition of the C.N.R. cables which extend from the depot to their offices on Jasper avenue. In his letter to the commissioners he dwelt with just pride on the fact that in all the 12 years of his managership of the department there has been only one man injured, and he is not at all desirous of having that good record spoilt by a falling C.N.R. cable. He urges the commissioners to instruct the C.N.R. to follow the example of the C.P.R., who have sunk their wires from the Jasper avenue office to the station.

SCHOOL PRINCIPAL IS CONVICTED OF WHITE SLAVERY

Becomes Hysterical in Court When Sentenced to Ten Years.

CHARGE WAS CORRUPTION OF YOUNG GIRL PUPIL

Convicted is University Graduate With Good Connection —Misused Previous Wife.

Vancouver, Oct. 27.—Bernard T. Davis, principal of a public school in Enumclaw, Washington, collapsed in court Saturday and screaming and hysterical had to be carried out when Judge McInnes sentenced him to ten years in prison for white slavery. The 17 year old girl wife, whom Davis had been found guilty of corrupting to an immoral life, was a former pupil in the school at Enumclaw where Davis was looked up to as the trained and trusted exemplar.

Her career was reminiscent of one other earlier girl wife and ex-pupil of Davis, who like a ghost from the grave where she has lain for three years intruded herself into the case on Saturday. She, too, had apparently been led into an immoral life by Davis and had died in Vancouver. Davis' present wife tried to shield him in the trial just ended, but the evidence was complete and Judge McInnes sentenced him to five years, which is the maximum, and a fine of $2,000, or in default five years more. Davis is a university graduate, aged 28, and well connected.

CANADIAN COUNCIL OF AGRICULTURE MAKES DEMANDS

Representative Farmers Decide to Lay Their Desires Before Ottawa Government.

ASK THAT OFFER OF U. S. CONGRESS BE ACCEPTED

Want Certain Grains and Implements on Free List—Also Wish for Co-operative Credit and Trade Organizations.

Regina, Oct. 27—At a meeting of the Canadian council of agriculture held in Regina on Friday last, at which representatives of the Saskatchewan and Manitoba grain growers' association and United Farmers of Alberta were present, it was unanimously decided to take steps for a delegation representing organized farmers of Canada to proceed to Ottawa before or near opening of the next association of parliament, to lay before the government and members of the parliament certain representations embodied in a series of resolutions dealing with the tariff, co-operative legislation and sample market.

The resolution dealing with the tariff is as follows:

1—That we urge the parliament of Canada to increase, at its first session, the British preference to at least 50 per cent., and to provide for an equal increase from year to year until we have free trade with Great Britain in five years.

2—That parliament accept the offer of the United States of the change of agricultural and animal tariff reduced between Canada and the United States.

3—That all foodstuffs not provided for in the above offer of the United States be transferred to the free list.

4—That agricultural implements, lumber and cement be transferred to the free list.

5—That, pending the passage of legislation asked for herein, any duties now imposed under the Canadian customs tariff which are the means of countervailing duties being imposed against any for odd products of the country by any foreign country, be immediately removed.

6—That any tariff or trade concession granted to any other country be immediately extended to Great Britain.

Other resolutions are: For legislation to permit co-operative societies of all kinds, whether for credit or trade, and for inspection of all scales in grain elevators and warehouses, to be placed in the jurisdiction of the board of grain commissioners. A resolution was also adopted for testing against establishment of sample market until such time as grain growers are agreed that same can be operated to their benefit.

Eighty-five Thousand Dollar Conflagration Occurs Sunday

Greatest Fire in History of South Side—Smoke Discovered Issuing From Rear Windows Summons Fire Fighters—Occupants of Upper Storey Lose Household Goods and Clothing.

Fanned by a breeze which, under ordinary circumstances, would not have been so disastrous, fire once more laid Strathcona under contribution—this time to the extent of over $100,000.

Yesterday morning, shortly after church had gone in, smoke was noticed issuing from the rear windows of Douglas Bros.' extensive general store at the northwest corner of Maine street and Whyte avenue. Inside of three hours all that was left of a once imposing business block, was a grimy smoking shell. Had the building been built of brick, cement or stone, instead of spruce, which seemed only to be waiting for a chance to show its combustible capabilities, the heroic attempts of Chief Lauder and his men would most likely have been attended with a greater measure of success. The dry and inflammable material aided by the licking flames, soon turned a city block into a roaring furnace. Citizens out for their Sunday morning walk on the north side, soon became aware of an enormous column of smoke which rose high into the sky over the central section of Strathcona, and satisfied the most skeptical of the serious nature of the conflagration.

The ground floor of the building was occupied by the store proper, while the upper story was given over to furnished rooms and the office of the Capital Cigar Co. Very shortly after the various occupants of these rooms had sat down after singing the opening hymn in their respective churches, friends hastened them of the danger. Miss Mary Ord, to her delight, found that friends had saved most of her belongings. J. Jones and his family, who arrived from Wales, lost everything. T. Scott managed to save everything but his stove. Mrs. Hood, another roomer, lost practically all she possessed. Miss Nellie McConnelly saved some dress goods, but lost most of her private belongings. David McEachren, owner of the Capital Cigar Co., had his stock fortunately insured for $500. The main loss, of course, was sustained by the Douglas Co. Ltd. Mr. Douglas, when seen last night at his home by the Capital, stated that he estimated his loss at over $85,000, covered by insurance to the extent of $58,000.

J. M. Douglas and R. B. Douglas, members of the company, were present all during the fire, and by directing the efforts of several heavy teams, managed to save a few dray loads of general dry-goods and groceries.

Never in the history of the south side has there been seen such a spectacular fire, nor one attended by nobler efforts of the fire department to save a building. It could also be said that never at a fire in the city of Edmonton have there been seen so many examples looting and sneak-thieving. Charles Smith, one of the members of No. 6 fire hall, returned after the fire to find his clothes and a large sum of money which they contained, stolen from his room.

Miss Jamieson, cashier for the Douglas company, rushed out as soon as she noticed the smoke and did not return until she felt the building was inevitably lost. When she entered her rooms she found someone in her absence had rifled her belongings and stolen a sum of money amounting to between $600 and $700 which she declared represented a life's savings.

As to the cause of the fire itself, the janitor distinctly stated that when he left the building at 11 o'clock all was in good order and that the furnace was cold, the fire having been allowed to go out the night before.

The fire was as spectacular as it was disastrous and attracted a record crowd which soon became too large for the local police to handle. A hurry call was sent out to the north side and soon a motor car load of police arrived who immediately began to rope off the affected area. All during the afternoon the scene of the fire was thronged by the curious.

As to the future plans of the company Mr. Douglas said that he feared it would be almost impossible to find quarters large enough to commence business afresh on anything like the former scale. He assured the Capital, however, that business would be resumed just as soon as anything like suitable quarters could be secured. The owner of the building, Mr. John Walter, could not give a definite statement to the Capital last night as to whether he intended rebuilding immediately or not. It was late in the season but he assured the reporter that a year from now would see the charred and blackened corner adorned by a far finer and larger edifice than that which had been burned.

STARVES HER WAY OUT OF PRISON

Suffragette Compels Government to Capitulate in "Cat and Mouse" Act.

London, Oct. 27—The government was obliged to capitulate in the matter of the announcement made by the home secretary on October 9, that suffragettes imprisoned for crimes of violence would not be given the freedom under the "cat and mouse" act. The home secretary was compelled to release Miss Richardson, who was arrested on October 4 on the charge of arson. Miss Richardson refused food from the moment of her arrest, and forcible feeding was reported to two weeks ago. Her condition became so serious that her release was ordered by Saturday. In his previous announcements the secretary declared that the act would be applied only to minor suffragette offenders whose crimes did not include acts of serious violence.

KING ALFONSO IS ON ANXIOUS SEAT

Trying to Patch Up Matters So Liberal Party Will Retain Power.

Madrid, Oct. 27.—King Alfonso spent many hours yesterday interviewing political leaders and trying to find a solution for the administrative crisis brought about by the rejection of a vote of confidence in the government Saturday at the opening of the Spanish parliament and of Premier Romanones and his cabinet.

The king, who believes that the maintenance of the Liberals in power is essential to the welfare of the country at the present time, has exhausted all arguments in a vain endeavor to induce the adherents to Count Romanones and Marquis Prieto, leaders of the dissenting liberals, to patch up the split in the party. He was therefore obliged to summon the conservatives. Antonio Maura, former premier and leader of the conservative party, declined the task of organizing a cabinet. The king then sought Senor Dato, ex-president of the chamber of deputies, who accepted provisionally, and will give a definite answer tomorrow. The authorities fear that the return of the conservatives, the mere prospect of which was responsible for minor disorders in Madrid, Barcelona, and Saragossa yesterday, may lead to a recrudescence of the agitation of 1909 and have already sent urgent instructions to the local authorities at various centres to take the strongest preventive measures.

Asquith Opposes Proposed Conference on Home Rule

Unhesitatingly Declares His Intention to Establish Home Rule in Ireland in Accordance With His Promise—Will Use Armed Force to Carry Law Into Effect if Necessary.

(By Western Associated Special Cable)

Ladybank, Scotland, Oct. 27.—Premier Asquith, straight from the recent meetings of the cabinet, gave to the country last night the eagerly awaited decision of the government on the Irish problem which recently has become befogged by various proposals for conferences of the political parties and by divergent utterances of the different members of the cabinet.

Mr. Asquith came out uncompromisingly against the suggested formal round table conference, but betrayed a leaning toward a compromise on the lines suggested by the first lord of the admiralty, Winston Spencer Churchill, namely, leaving the northwest corner of Ulster to remain under the imperial parliament for a limited period.

The premier intimated plainly that there must not be an insuperable barrier erected which might permanently sever the unity of Ireland, or might prevent the Protestant minority from ultimately throwing in their lot with the rest of their fellow-countrymen; but the speech is taken to indicate that if the exclusion of Ulster was the only means of settlement by consent he would be prepared to agree to that temporary arrangement.

Anxious as he showed himself to be for a friendly settlement, Premier Asquith unhesitatingly announced his decision to establish a parliament in Ireland in accordance with his promise, and, also, if the opposition declined his suggested adjustment of the Ulster problem, to use the armed forces of the nation in carrying the law into effect.

Moreover there was no need for all the machinery of such a conference. If there was a disposition of exchanging views and suggestions, he and his colleagues, he said, were perfectly ready to participate, subject to certain simple governing considerations; namely, that nothing must interfere with the establishment in Dublin of a subordinate Irish legislature with an executive responsible for it. That was the root principle of the bill from which the cabinet could not depart. In the second place nothing must be done to erect a permanent and insuperable barrier in the way of Irish unity.

Through Reuter's Ottawa Agency.

London, Oct. 27—Right Hon. Herbert Asquith, prime minister, addressed an enthusiastic meeting of his constituents of Ladybank, Fife, Scotland, Saturday evening. He dealt exclusively with the question of home rule, and emphasized that the government intended to make use of the parliament act in order to give liberal legislation something approaching an equal chance with their opponents. The government, he said, had declared in favor of home rule, when they had an overwhelming majority over all parties, and the last election was fought with the knowledge that home rule would come next to passing of the parliament act. It would have been the grossest breach of public faith to put off this legislation.

Mr. Asquith affirmed that the government still believed that as the bill now stood, the Irish legislature, which it would bring into existence, even if it had the disposition, which the government did not believe it to have, would not and could not have the power to be guilty of acts of oppression against the minority. He pointed out that the lords had not attempted to modify, amend, or improve the bill. The prime minister paid a tribute to the loyalty and self-sacrifice of the Irish party in the house of commons. He added:

"You are often told that I am Redmond's subservient tool, (laughter), just as in Ireland, Mr. Redmond is told that he is mine. There is just as much truth in the one accusation as in the other—and that is none at all. (Cheers). Liberals and Nationalists have worked in co-operation in a common cause—a cause in the justice and policy of which we both believe." (Cheers).

"The bill as it left the commons," continued the prime minister, "as it had been twice rejected by the house of lords, had the hearty approval of the whole liberal party in Great Britain, and of the vast majority of nationalists and there was abundant evidence that it had practically the united support of all the great self-governing dominions. (Cheers).

"In these circumstances," proceeded Mr. Asquith, "there is, in my opinion, a complete constitutional case for proceeding in the next session regarding the Irish government bill by applying to it the operation of the parliament act. (Cheers). Ought the action of statesmen to be affected or deflected by the menace of forcible resistance to the execution of the law? (Great cheering). The doctrines preached during the last two years in the north of Ireland which, I regret to say, have received countenance in responsible quarters in this country, are a negation of the first principle of parliamentary and, still more, of democratic government. If the Ulster minority is entitled to resist home rule, what possible answer could be made to a like claim by the masses of the Irish people? (Cheers). No! we need not and shall not be intimidated by the threat of force." (Prolonged cheering).

Then, speaking slowly and deliberately, the prime minister said:

"I have more than once expressed the hope and belief that the new system of the government in Ireland would be brought into operation without recourse to armed forces by the crown; but if a statute deliberately enacted by parliament, were to be met by organized armed resistance, it would clearly be not only the right, but the duty of the executive to assert the authority of the law by every appropriate and adequate means." (Loud cheers).

Mr. Asquith, after referring to some of the extravagant manifestations in Ulster, declared that it was the duty of every man to deal respectfully with the deep-seated and genuine sentiments of the minority, although he believed their apprehensions to be without foundation. All liberals and nationalists, therefore, should spare no effort to eliminate such apprehensions. He had offered to consider any honestly put forward proposals consistent with the scope of the bill. Proposals, however, for the exclusion of Ulster had been avowedly put forward, not as a help towards the solution of the problem of Irish self-government, but with the most uncompromising declaration that their acceptance would not diminish hostility to the principles of the bill.

He would be glad to be authoritatively informed that that was no longer the case. There was two obvious reasons why all patriotic men should desire a settlement by consent. In the first place there was the supreme importance of the future well being of Ireland. The new scheme had not started with apparent triumph in one section, however preponderant its numbers, nor with apparent humiliation in another section. He firmly believed that the ties binding Irishmen would prove more durable and effective than their differences if the unifying process were given a fair chance of success. It was worth paying even a considerable price to secure the absence of ill will and the possibility of co-operation.

Then the second reason was, whatever was done should be recorded by all parties as resting upon a solid foundation and capable of future development beyond the risks of party vicissitudes. Ireland had too long been the cockpit of British politics (cheers). Proposals, however, made in perfectly good faith and good will, for a formal conference of the party leaders, did not appear to him to be practically helpful. A conference with defined limits would be almost certainly abortive and would probably leave matters worse; nor was a conference necessary if there was a genuine disposition in all quarters, by an interchange of suggestions, free and frank, without prejudice, to contribute to the common stock.

"I invite that interchange," added Mr. Asquith. "Both I and my colleagues are ready to take part in it (cheers). We should not depart, however, from the root and principle of the bill, a subordinate Irish parliament at Dublin with an executive responsible for it (cheers). In the second place, nothing must be done to erect a permanent barrier to Irish unity. Thirdly, while the importance of extension of devolution to the United Kingdom is fully realized, the claim of Ireland is prior in point of urgency.

I myself am sanguine enough to believe that the difficulties ought not to be beyond the resources of statesmanship. One thing is certain, we are not going to be false to the trust which the vast majorit of the Irish people have reposed in us (cheers). We are not going to betray their cause. We are bound to prosecute their purpose and ours to a successful issue, not only by obligations of loyalty but by profound conviction that it has behind it the sympathies of the British democracy at home and throughout the Empire; that it carries with it the best and only enduring prospect of a happy and prosperous future for Ireland and Great Britain" (loud and prolonged cheering).

No Surrender

The Irish independents or O'Brien nationalists have now come out with the declaration that any exclusion of Ulster from the Irish Home Rule bill, will be unacceptable to them. This must greatly strengthen the hands of Redmond in his "no surrender" policy.

Captain Craig, the Ulster Unionist, M.P., closely identified with Carson and the Ulster militants, says the Ladybank speech destroys the last illusion that any loyalist might possess regarding the patriotism, honesty and justice of the present cabinet so far as Irish policy is concerned. "We deserve a better fate," he exclaims, "and to judge by our past services to the empire we are not going to take it lying down."

Beresford Will Go to Ulster

Lord Charles Beresford, speaking at Portsmouth, said that if civil war were to come he would go to Ulster because he believed that was his duty. Many officers who had served in the army and navy were like him and not prepared to stand idly by while the loyal and devoted people of Ulster were being shot down.

The death of Sir Walter Menzies creates a parliamentary vacancy in South Lanarkshire. Though during the past three elections this Scottish county riding has given liberal majority between twelve and sixteen hundred, it's previous history was unionist and the opposition will contest the seat. This makes the sixth by-election in prospect. The deceased member was the son of James Menzies, founder of the famous Phoenix Tuke works at Glasgow.

Newspaper Comment.

London, Oct. 27—The Daily Telegraph comments on Premier Asquith's speech at Ladybank as leaving the Ulster situation as hopeless as before. "It is most unlikely that anything valuable can come of the offer which the prime minister makes so sparingly," the paper says, "owing to the harsh exactions which he imposes. Until the views of the government are more fully disclosed, it is impossible to say whether there will be any chance of a settlement."

The Standard says: "Unionists are not for peace at any price, and while they will not bang the door on proposals of a compromise, they are certainly not disposed to accept precisely what Premier Asquith chooses to offer."

The Daily News (liberal) advertising Bonar Law's coming speech, says the Unionist leader made a grave mistake in sanctioning the unlawful proceedings of Ulster.

The News says it will be surprised if Bonar Law does not decide that, since home rule must come, Ulster makes her inclusion in the new Ireland essential.

The Times says that Asquith has confronted the protestants of Ulster with both an olive branch and a sword, a method that recalls Gladstone rather than his own native gift of a clear exposition. "If he sees civil war ahead and means to menace Ulster, or if he means to make an offer to avert so grave a danger, why does he not put it in the language that will be beyond misunderstanding," says the paper.

PEOPLE OF CANADA MUST DO BUSINESS CONSERVATIVELY

Sir Melvin Jones Thinks Only in This Manner Canada Recuperate.

Regina, Oct. 27.—"The people of Canada must proceed very slowly during the next year or two. They must conduct all business on a conservative basis. It is only in this manner that the country can recover from the financial stringency, under which she has been laboring for the past few months, and again regain her normal healthy condition."

The above was the statement made last evening by Sir Melvin Jones, president of the Massey Harris Company of Toronto.

Sir Melvin has just completed a five weeks' tour of the prairie provinces, in which he has inspected the branches of his company.

JUSTIFYING THEMSELVES

Washington, Oct. 27.—On the face of the meagre returns from the Mexican elections and apparent indications that the president had not been chosen, officials in Washington today based justification for the policy of this government in declining in advance to recognize the elections as legal and fair. Although nothing official has come to the authorities here the prevailing opinion was that Huerta would be returned.

CONTROLS POWER WINNIPEG RIVER

Winnipeg Street Railway Secures Lease for Long Term.

Ottawa, Oct. 27.—The control of the great falls, on the Winnipeg River, has passed into the hands of the Winnipeg Electric Railway. The lease held by Robert Muir, which expires next month, has been transferred with Mr. Muir's consent to Sir William Whyte, and the Winnipeg Electric Railway. Particulars of the transfer were obtained last night from Dr. Roche. The lease is for a period of 21 years, renewable for three further similar periods or altogether for 84 years. The government will control the rates to be charged to the consumer and the rental will be reconsidered at every renewal. The government further reserves the right at the end of each period or at the conclusion of the 84 years to buy back the development.

The scheme contemplates the concentration of the various falls of the river at three points, where 75,000 horse power can be developed. These three points are Pine Falls, Great Falls, and MacArthur Falls.

BELIEVED DUBLIN STRIKE WILL BE ENDED SOON

Archbishop Walsh Heading Latest Peace Movement Which is Making Headway.

London, Oct. 27—There are indications that the strike troubles in Dublin, which have convulsed that city for many weeks, causing a daily loss of more than £10,000, will be ended at an early date.

His Grace Archbishop Walsh is heading the latest peace movement, and the employers are now considering the acceptance of terms involving an all-round arbitration for present and future strikes, thus preventing bloodshed and deaths by starvation.

James Larkin, secretary of the transportation workers union, who is now under trial, declares that he has been "sold" while out of the way. His supporters are cooling off. The fact is that both employers and workers are exhausted, and desire to end the struggle without delay, and this has only been prevented by the ill-advised plan of the English agitators, whose scheme to bring Catholic children here for adoption has caused further disorder, resulting in kidnappings and arrests. The labor leaders are now consulting here, and will meet the employers in Dublin on Monday, when a final decision leading to peace will probably be adopted.

CURED DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS

Once Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are introduced into the family and their efficiency becomes known they are usually found too valuable to do without. For everyday ills arising from liver and bowel disorders they bring relief promptly, and when complicated diseases of the kidneys and liver develop they often prove a successful cure after doctors have failed. As an illustration, you may read the following, which was received a few days ago:

Mrs. John Wright, 53 McGee Street, Toronto, Ont., states: "We have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for ten years, and would not be without them. My husband suffered from kidney trouble and after taking treatment from several doctors without receiving any benefit, tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which worked a complete cure. Since that time we have used them for all stomach and liver disorders."

MONETARY LOSS AMOUNTS TO HALF MILLION DOLLARS

Destroys Goodyear Rubber Co.'s Building and Does Damages to Other Structures Yesterday.

Milwaukee, Oct. 27.—Seven dead firemen and 24 injured were taken from the ruins of the store of Goodyear rubber company here Sunday night, after a fire which caused a loss of $100,000. It is believed there are several more bodies.

The flames broke out on the second floor and while the firemen were fighting the blaze from the front and rear, an explosion sent the walls crashing down on 50 firemen. Windows for blocks around were smashed and the flames spread to adjoining buildings.

Rescue companies were sent into the blazing ruins and bodies of the dead and injured were taken out. Practically the entire fire fighting apparatus of the city was called to the scene, which is in the heart of the business section of the city.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 27.—The toll of death from last night's fire, which destroyed the store of the Goodyear rubber company and adjoining buildings, East Water street, and wrought other damage to property within the block, still remains at seven at 8 o'clock this morning. Monetary loss is estimated at half a million dollars. A revised list of known dead is as follows:

John J. Doyle, captain engine No. 4.
John Feiten, pipe man engine No. 4.
George J. Clausen,
Timothy Dwyer, pipeman, engine No. 4.
Max Flaschel, driver.
William L. Graf, engine No. 4.
Walter Freitage, aged 23.

Four others in critical condition are:

Gustave Parel, aged 40, engine No. 10, fractured at base of skull.
George Helbig, aged 43, engine No. 29, skull fractured.
Charles Newton, lieutenant of fire insurance patrol, skull fractured and shoulder broken.

Seventeen others were injured, but it is not expected serious results will follow. The principal property losses are as follows:

Goodyear Rubber company, retail department, $50,000, loss on building $85,000, partly covered by insurance; Selmann Bros., clothiers, stock $100,000, fully insured, damage to building $10,000; Western Electric company, $50,000, insured $30,000, loss on building $90,000, insured.

Leo Abraham, cigars, $25,000, damage to building $30,000, partly insured; saloon, $10,000; three upper stories occupied by Goodyear Rubber Company stock $20,000, fully insured.

Stumpf and Langhoff, clothing, loss $50,000, insured. The block in which the fire broke out is known as Milwaukee's "death block," there having been no fewer than 82 lives snuffed out within its boundaries in the city's history.

The first loss of life was in 1883, when, on January 10, 70 persons were burned to death in the old New Hall House. Twenty years later Fire Chief James Foley and three of his men met death from wild flames in a building next door to the Goodyear company's store, and last night's toll of seven brings the total up to 82.

FRENCH CANADIANS CELEBRATE VICTORY OF DE SALABERRY

Heroes of Battle of Chateauguay Honored by Hundreds of People.

Chambly Basin, Que., Oct. 27.—A cold drizzling rain which fell yesterday from early morning & left the square in front of the De Salaberry Monument ankle deep in mire gave to the scene of flags and yards of bunting a most undefinite appearance, but had no deterring effect on the patriotic enthusiasm of between three and four hundred people who gathered to honor the heroes of the battle of Chateauguay, fought just one hundred years ago yesterday, and to commemorate the undying exploits of Col. Chas. Michael D'Irmbery De Salabery, whose bones repose here in the village cemetery.

No elaborate celebration of De Salaberry's victory had been planned, that being left to the men who are arranging for a military and ceremonial demonstration on the actual battlefield in Chateauguay County next year, but it is felt that the hundredth anniversary should not be allowed to pass without some public recognition of the event. To this end yesterday's demonstration was organized by the society St. Jean Baptiste of Montreal, and a special train was run from the city bringing the president and members of the society, representatives of De Salaberry family, detachments of the 65th Regiment and the Laval officers' training corps, the 64th, 84th and other regiments, and prominent citizens of Montreal.

Two hundred arrived on the special train, while two hundred more assembled from the village and surrounding country in front of the monument where the ceremonies began with a general salute by the military and the placing of wreaths, the spectators standing with heads bared, despite the rain. Adjournment was taken later to the town hall, where brief addresses were delivered.

WILSON PROCLAIMS A DOCTRINE FOR THIS HEMISPHERE

Governments Stained by Blood and Without Consent of Governed Cannot Endure.

Swarthmore, Penn., Oct. 27—President Wilson in a speech here Saturday proclaimed the doctrine that the whole western hemisphere should be devoted to one sacred purpose: "That nowhere can any government endure which is stained by blood or supported by anything but the consent of the governed."

His utterances, it is known, reflect the ideas which the Washington administration is preparing to announce to the nations of the world in a formal note on the policy of the United States toward Mexico. The president spoke in a big tent, not far from the spot where Penn landed, the exercises being commemorative also of Founders Day at Swarthmore college, and was enthusiastically cheered.

"I would not be interested," said the president, "in celebrating the memory of William Penn if his conquest had been merely a material one.

"But the extent of the American conquest is not what gives America distinction in the annals of the world, it is the professed purpose of the conquest which was to see to it that every foot of land should be home of free-governed people, who should have no government whatever which did not rest on the consent of the governed.

"And the spirit of Penn will not be stayed. You cannot set limits to such knightly adventurers."

LLOYD GEORGE HANDICAPPED BY CENTURIES OF TRADITION.

The drain of Canadian emigration is given as the primary cause of the Lloyd George land policy through which it is proposed to nationalize the unworked land of the United Kingdom and put it in the hands of those who will use it. Britain for more than half a century has been guided by the false sentiment that the country was improved by shipping out of it thousands and hundreds of thousands of its population. Canada has been guided by the belief that population is valuable and has offered inducements in land. Britain has come round now to this belief and is attempting to offer the same inducements to keep its population at home. Canada, to offer the inducement, has merely to open up its unused crown lands to settlement. Great Britain has to take the unused lands from private individuals and make them crown lands. Canada, if it had no other land open to the settler, might expropriate the holdings of the C. P. R., the Hudson Bay or any other of the big land proprietors and offer the same to settlers on terms without violating any very deep-seated tradition of the Canadian people, because the Canadian people are used to the idea of the settlement of unused lands. In Great Britain Lloyd George is handicapped by the tradition of centuries, and his proposal to put to use lands heretofore held out of use in baronial estates is classified as a revolution.

AN ACCUSATION WHICH WILL NOT STAND.

Upon the part of a certain self-superior element in our city there is an ever-present tendency to charge that the primary reason for the municipal mismanagement which has perplexed and exasperated Edmonton for years is due to the failure of the citizens in general to take an intelligent interest in the city's business.

When two thousand men and women will turn out, as they did to the Hindley lecture on Friday evening, and listen with the most absorbed interest for an hour and a half to a lecture dealing exclusively with the consideration in the abstract of the relative merits of different forms of civic government, there can be no further grounds for the accusation against the citizens that they do not take an interest in the affairs of their city.

If the Hindley meeting, dealing with the abstract, were to be discounted upon the ground that it is not an evidence of immediate interest in the concrete and specific features of administration, the street numbering meeting of two weeks ago should fill the bill as proof of an interested citizinery.

Against these evidences of the intense interest of the citizens in the affairs of their city, the self-superior presumption that the mismanagement is the direct result of the lack of interest will not stand.

CHANCES EXCELLENT FOR INVASION OF MEXICO.

When President Wilson and Secretary Bryan gave Huerta an extension of time it was upon the condition that he should hold an election for the purpose of establishing a constitutional government in Mexico, and that he (Huerta) should observe the Mexican constitutional law which prohibits a president succeeding himself.

Huerta's answer has been to in the interval preceding the day set for election declare himself dictator, to jail a group of deputies and to hold an election which is apparently a palpable fake.

The British minister, in the meantime, has recognized Huerta, and the Cawdry oil interests are evidently prepared to lend him all the money required to strengthen his army.

This places President Wilson in the position where, if, as nearest neighbor, he is going to bring about constitutional government in Mexico he will almost certainly have to resort to invasion. The chances are excellent for an invasion of Mexico.

CALLED ON A FOUR FLUSH.

When Carson started out to form his Ulster volunteers he evidently did so with the belief that a sufficiently strong bluff would cause the Asquith government to back down on the Home Rule bill and the political prestige thus lost to the government would prove its undoing. Under the circumstances, Asquith's declaration of Saturday that if a statute passed by parliament were to be met by organized, armed resistance it will be the duty of the executive to assert the authority of the law places Carson in the position where he is discovered in possession of four hearts and a spade.

JUST PARAGRAPHS.

"Oh! Such a headache," said King George as he assented to the club bills passed by the Alberta legislature.

Why should it be called the Jasper club? It should be the 101st avenue club.

RETROSPECTIVE

The session was productive of many surprises and many disappointments. The cabinet ministers were, of course, the dominant figures. Without exception they maintained their dignity and power. It is not unfair to his colleagues to say that Hon. Charles Stewart stood out prominently. His department carries a heavy burden and carries it easily. Mr. Stewart was posted on every detail and was always ready to supply the necessary information. He justified every amendment to the rural municipalities act, the village act, the town act and other measures bearing upon his department and in dealing with the city charter amendments he showed a strong grasp of the situation.

Hon. C. R. Mitchell, Hon. Duncan Marshall and Hon. J. R. Boyle also showed themselves masters of the situation in all matters pertaining to their departments. Hon. C. W. Cross likewise stood like a stone wall on all questions relating to his department and put through contentious legislation in the most workmanlike manner.

Needless to say, Premier Sifton was at all times in command and the house was hushed every time he stood up.

In the government ranks, Hon. A. G. MacKay was a commanding figure. In committee, in debate and in repartee and analysis the member for Athabasca was in power. It was his eleventh session and he brought to the house a ripe experience of inestimable value to his associates. The coup by which he placed the member for Edmonton South, Mr. Crawford, in the position of standing alone was the cleverest piece of work of the session. Mr. MacKay filled the big gap left by the late Hon. Malcolm MacKenzie in committee. He came out of the session one of the biggest and broadest men in Alberta politics.

Perhaps the biggest disappointment on the opposition side was Dr. Blow, of Calgary. Dr. Blow came to the legislature with aspirations to be leader of the opposition. He had a small following when he arrived but none at the close of the session. His speeches were flat and stale and his associates did not hesitate to say that he had been overestimated. The same was true of the junior member for Edmonton, Mr. Ewing. He was expected to be a power in the house but he failed to show any of the qualities he was supposed to possess. His speeches were prosaic and tiresome and he did not measure up to the standard in any particular. When pinned down to facts Mr. Ewing failed lamentably and his work during the session can only be represented by zero in statesmanship.

Next to Mr. Tweedie, of Calgary, the man who showed the most promise in the opposition ranks was Mr. Spencer of Medicine Hat. He is a hard man to handle in debate, a persistent fighter and one who is thinking all the time. Mr. Campbell, of Rocky Mountain, was diplomatic and thoughtful, and usually carried his points.

It takes two good men to fill the place of Mr. Bramley-Moore, who seems to have left the stamp of his individuality upon his old constituency. Aggressiveness and insistence are two of his striking attributes. Mr. Hudson and Mr. Lowery carried his mantle in that respect. They both gave their constituents the best they could afford. No matter how their efforts may be regarded, it must be confessed that they are both hard workers.

Much might be said of the work of other members of both sides of the house, all of whom acquitted themselves with great credit, but the session is over and we must turn our attention to the bull moose and the cock birds of which Mr. Kennis spoke. Vale legislature!

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY PARTY

Col. Roosevelt Celebrates Birthday In South America.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt will celebrate his 55 birthday in South America, today marking the anniversary of the ex-President's arrival on this mundane sphere. The Colonel has been enthusiastically welcomed by the "other Americans," and his stay of six months in the storm centre of South America to be sufficiently replete with incident and novelty to satisfy even the foremost disciple of strenuosity. Within recent years the South Americans have welcomed many distinguished visitors, including the Rt. Hon. James Bryce, M. Georges Clemenceau of France and the Hon. Elihu Root, and the first two named have written interesting volumes about the Latin republics and their people, industries and possibilities. When Mr. Root visited South America the rival municipalities of Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Ayres vied with each other in the lavishness of their welcome. Old docks were rebuilt, block after block of unsightly buildings were razed, and new avenues were opened in honor of "Senor Root." Since then the South American has become more accustomed to the visits of North American and European notables, and more jealous of the United States. Fear of the "Yankels" is daily becoming more pronounced, and it is safe to say that the commercial representatives of other nations are not unduly exerting themselves to allay such fears. Many South Americans attribute to Col. Roosevelt the responsibility for what they call "the loot of Panama," and one Buenos Ayres newspaper has even suggested that the Colonel's tour is to enable him to look over the ground, with a view to establishing himself as dictator over all South America.

Features of Col. Roosevelt's tour will be a trip into Patagonia and a journey into the interior of Brazil with a party of naturalists. Patagonia is no longer a wild and all but inhabited country. The wide expanse of pampas is now dotted with haciendas and has become a grazing ground for millions of cattle. In the interior of Brazil, however, Col. Roosevelt will find a country wilder than any he traversed in Africa. The hinterland of Brazil is the world's last terra incognita, and part of it is inhabited only by wild and savage natives of cannibalistic propensities, who have the pleasing habit of welcoming white invaders with poisoned arrows.

The South American papers have devoted much space to Col. Roosevelt ever since he announced his purpose of visiting the southern continent. One of the most interesting discussions has raged over the sort of liquid refreshments to be served at the banquets given in the Colonel's honor. Some of the papers have advocated unfermented grape juice as the proper beverage, apparently confusing the Colonel's views on the liquor question with those held by another eminent American statesman.

Since he left the White House, it is estimated that Col. Roosevelt has realized nearly a million dollars from his literary labors. His book, "African Game Trails," has sold to the extent of over a million copies, which constitutes a record for so short a period of time.

Kenyn Cox, the painter, was born in Warren, O., 57 years ago today, the son of Gen. Jacob Delson Cox. The latter a native of Montreal, distinguished himself in the civil war, and afterward became Governor of Ohio and Secretary of the Interior in President Grant's cabinet. Mr. Cox studied under Gerome and Carolus Duran in Paris, and also in Cincinnati and Philadelphia. His pictures are principally portraits and figure pieces. He painted decorations for the Library of Congress at Washington, for the State Capitols of Minnesota and Iowa, and many other public buildings, and has also designed United States currency.

TODAY WE CELEBRATE

Greek King and Queen Married 24 Years Ago.

King Constantine and Queen Sophia of Greece will celebrate today the 24 anniversary of their wedding, which was celebrated with great pomp and display in Athens on Oct. 27, 1889. The Queen is a sister of the Emperor of Germany, who was among those present at the ceremony in the ancient Greek capital. Members of the royal families of every court in Europe were there to congratulate the bride and bridegroom. King Constantine's father, the late King George I., was a brother of King Frederick VIII. of Denmark, Dowager Queen Alexandra of Great Britain and the Dowager Empress of Russia, and uncle of King Haaken VII. of Norway. The King's mother was the Grand Duchess Olga of Russia, the daughter of a grandnuncle of the present Emperor. Queen Sophia is a cousin of the Duchess of Connaught, wife of the Governor-General of Canada. She is a granddaughter of the late Queen Victoria.

Soon after her marriage the Princess Sophia renounced her Lutheran religion and became a Greek Catholic, thereby deeply offending her brother. For years the Kaiser refused to have anything to do with the Greek royal family, but eventually Sophia overcame his prejudices, and thereafter spent much of her time in Germany. This displeased the Greeks, but Sophia's heroic work among the wounded in the recent war restored her to popular favor.

The marriage of Constantine and Sophia 24 years ago today was highly pleasing to the Greeks, since there was an ancient tradition that "When a royal Constantine weds a Princess Sophia their son shall reign in Constantinople." The disastrous war with Turkey in 1897, which Constantine had vainly sought to avert, made the Crown Prince very unpopular, as he was disastrously defeated in the field. The officers turned their backs on Constantine, and he was hooted and jeered by the people. Again in 1909, when Constantine opposed the annexation of Crete, he was subjected to insults, and determined to abandon his rights to the throne and shake the dust of Greece from his feet. He had already prepared for the removal of his belongings from Athens to St. Petersburg, and had accepted a command in the Russian army, when the National Assembly called him back. Wild acclaim greeted his return, and he was restored to the command of its army. In the recent war Constantine showed himself a brave and able general, and after his accession to the throne upon the tragic death of King George he has manifested great ability as a diplomat. Greece shared far better than the other allies in the distribution of the spoils of victory, and her boundaries have been extended much nearer to Constantinople, that goal of centuries, than they were before.

The Greek king and Queen have five children. The heir to the throne, Prince George, is now in his 24 year, and was with his father at the front. Prince Alexander, the second son, is 20; Princess Helene is 17, Prince Paul is 16, and the Princess Irene nine.

The Queen of the Hellenes has many of the mental characteristics of her imperial brother. As a girl she was distinguished by a firmness of will that refused to break obstacles.

AGRICULTURE DEPT. PRESENTS REPORT TO LEGISLATURE

Hon. Duncan Marshall Lays Interim Statement on Table of House.

THOROUGH WORK BEING DONE REGARDING WEEDS

Game is Steadily Increasing and Also Violations of Game Laws—New Brand Book in Preparation.

Hon. Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture, laid on the table of the house an interim report covering the work of the department for the present year. He explained that it was impossible to present a full report as a great many of the statistical tables could not be completed until the end of the year.

The report shows that a few changes have been made in the supervision of the work of the live stock commissioner in that all of the ordinances connected with live stock had been grouped under the direction and supervision of the live stock commissioner.

In the same way, the crop statistics and the vital statistics, both of which have been handled in the general office, have been re-grouped, the first under the publicity commissioner, and the second under the public health branch.

The report shows an increase in the number of game inspectors employed and the reduction in the area covered by each. In addition to this, all the newly formed rural municipalities had inspectors covering their districts. On account of a larger area being under summer fallow, there is quite a reduction in the number of weeds, especially in the amount of tumbling mustard. Russian thistle, Canada thistle and stinkweed all show a tendency to increase. An interesting feature in connection with the weed work is the fact that the increase in live stock means greater weed destruction. This is especially true where sheep are being kept. Under the act there were 57 prosecutions this year as compared with 27 the previous year.

The report of the game and fire guardian shows that game is steadily increasing, that there were more violations of the game act, and that the revenue derived from game is steadily increasing. Very few prairie fires were reported this spring.

The poultry superintendent reports a demand for eggs for hatching far beyond the possibilities of the poultry plant. In fact, it has been impossible to supply more than one-half the eggs asked for. This branch made a new departure this year in supplying one-day-old chicks. The demand for these again was far beyond the possibilities of the plant, but those sent out did well, and it looks as though this would be much in demand in the future. Over 100,000 worth of the best stock in the province was carried through the winter for distribution purposes. Every school was a success. This work has been greatly appreciated by the farmers and no doubt has the greatest influence for the schools of agriculture. In addition to this, institute meetings were held in various parts of the province, official judges supplied to the poultry shows, the spring stallion shows, seed fairs, and the summer fairs, as well as the judging of standing fields of grain.

The report of the live stock commissioner shows that the railroad companies have voluntarily accepted the regulations governing the shipping of live stock prepared by the department and presented to the board of railway commissioners some three years ago. These regulations set out clearly the rights of shippers and suggest remedies in cases of hardships. It is a distinct "feather in the cap" of the department to have its efforts in this behalf so unanimously recognized.

The live stock commissioner also started a new line of educational work, that of curing meat. Meetings were held at seven different places and demonstrations given of killing, cutting and curing the meat. This work was taken right to the farms and greatly appreciated. The report also shows that there is a great increase in hog growing, and some day it will likely become the leading industry in the province. Definite data has been secured on the housing and handling of hogs, which have been in great demand.

The report of the bacteriological laboratory shows that examinations were made for 248 cases of tuberculosis, 389 for diphtheria, and 94 for typhoid fever. In all, 35 examinations of milk were made. In all, 453 examinations of water. In addition, numerous examinations of a medico-legal nature were undertaken for the attorney-general's department.

The publicity commissioner's report shows a keen demand for land and particulars about the natural resources of this province. During the year an effort was made to secure help for farmers, and a special delegation sent to Scotland to interest farm laborers. This work has met with considerable success during the summer, and the publicity officer at Winnipeg made arrangements for sending 5,000 harvesters to the province. Preparations are under way for an exhibit at the International Fat Stock Show to be held in Chicago in November.

GENERAL HERZOG, A SOUTH AFRICAN FIREBRAND, BUSY

Objects to Federal Parliament When Representation Would Be Small.

SAYS BOTHA'S POLICY IS IMPERIALISM GOOD OR BAD

Objects to Consultation With Imperial Government on Subject of General Defence —Unionists Hope Soon to Be Able to Form Government.

London, Oct. 27.—General Herzog, the firebrand of South Africa, has been indulging in more anti-British outbursts. In speaking at Prince Albert, Cape Colony, he pointed out that the principle of imperialism which was now prominently before the British public and the dominions was no academic question, but was being threshed out in Canada also. At present there was no such thing as the British empire. There were five nations whose imperialistic policy was to draw closer to one another, but leaving each free to manage its local affairs.

He objected to the idea of a federal parliament in which they would have one for every 48 representatives. Australia had declined to share in the support of the imperial navy because this introduced the federal idea. Botha's policy was imperialism, good or bad. Canada and Australia opposed imperialism because it conflicted with the nationalities. Botha had objected to his assertion made at Smithfield, that he (Botha) was not a minister of the empire, where was the empire of which Botha was premier? He was premier of South Africa.

Referring to the naval question, Herzog criticized the government for conferring with the mother country on the subject of defense. That was like saying "you gave us responsible government, but we are incapable of using it." He read an extract from a Canadian paper amid cheers, showing that there was a strong feeling that Canada should be considered first and foremost.

The speech was remarkable, in that it showed an attitude of definite policy to the empire, although Botha and his colleagues assert that there is no difference in principle between the unionist party, the hope was expressed that within two years the party would be strong enough to form a government. The presidential address urged the need of a white population, nothing was done in this regard by the present government.

The recognition of the Transvaal Miners' association by the mine owners has improved the industrial situation.

COL. SAM HUGHES BACK AT OTTAWA

Minister of Militia Returns From Extended Trip to Old Country.

Ottawa, Oct. 27.—Colonel the Hon. Sam Hughes, minister of militia, who has been abroad since early in September attending the military camps at Aldershot and the Manoeuvres of the German and French armies, arrived in the capital on Saturday. He left for Toronto on Saturday evening to visit a sick relative.

Colonel Hughes expressed himself as being more than pleased with the reception he and the other officers had received in England. Nothing, he said, could have exceeded the courtesy extended to Canadians by everybody with whom they came in contact, from his Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught down.

Asked as to the British Army, Colonel ughes said that the Aldershot manoeuvres demonstrated it is in good shape and that the mother country possessed a splendid fighting machine. Colonel Hughes did not express an opinion in regard to the efficiency of the armies of France and Germany.

OLYMPIC GAMES AT BERLIN

Berlin, Oct. 27.—The principal track and field events of the Olympic Games to be held here in 1916 are to be decided between July 1 and 16, according to an announcement made today by the German Olympic Committee. The football and hockey championships are to be contested on May 29 and June 5, respectively, and the rowing on August 12. The dates for the sailing, golf, etc., have not been fixed. The committee has not decided to what extent supplementary sports are to figure in the programme of the Olympic Games.

TAFT'S CANADIAN SUMMER HOME.

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 27.—Hon. Wm. Taft, ex-president of the United States, has been spending a few days at Sharbot Lake and vicinity enjoying some good fishing. It is rumored that he will buy one of the islands and build a summer home.

CORRESPONDENCE

EX-AUDITOR DISPUTES OVER-EXPENDITURE CHARGE.

The Editor, Edmonton Capital:

Sir,—At a meeting held at North Edmonton last week one member, the Hon. Mr. Aldridge I think, is reported to have said, in effect, that if there was anything in the statement in regard to a sum of $5,000,000, the meeting should hesitate to criticize the present city administration. I desire to assure the reverend gentleman and the ratepayers of the city generally that there is less than two per cent. of fact in respect of the alleged improper, excessive, illegal or wasteful use of the said sum of $5,000,000 by Commissioner Chalmers (or any other commissioner) during 1912.

The small percentage mentioned covers the items by which the departmental estimates of capital expenditure were expected and for which value was received.

I would ask Mr. Short and his supporters on the city council if they do or do not believe in the correctness of the report sent to the council by the commissioners which embodied a report by the city treasurer dealing with the matter. If they do believe in its correctness, why does Mr. Short reiterate his vague statements in regard to an amount of $5,000,000, and why do his aldermanic supporters allow such statements to gain currency? If they do not believe in its correctness, why not invite the city treasurer to explain further? The ratepayers should not be misled into believing that there has been an improper or excessive use of $5,000,000, as any such statement is absolutely incorrect, and I challenge Mr. Short or any other person to prove otherwise, and I am prepared to debate this matter in public with Mr. Short, or anyone else, at any time and place.

It is absurd in the extreme for persons of ordinary intelligence to accept as such a wild statement as that Commissioner Chalmers is responsible for an improper or illegal expenditure during the year of $5,000,000, and if any blame is due for the city having spent more in recent years than was consistent with its growth (if such be the case), it must be laid upon the ratepayers, who, in nearly every case, voted a three-quarters majority for money bylaws referred to them by the city council. Last year's council included Aldermen Douglas, Livingstone, Walsh, Calder and Tipton, who very probably were in favor of such bylaws, and these honorable gentlemen are now seeking to fasten the responsibility on Commissioner Chalmers, who at most, was responsible (with other commissioners) for carrying out the expressed wishes of the ratepayers and the city council, in view of the apparent fact that this misstatement having been successfully used as an argument for the right to dismiss city commissioners by a simple majority of the council its 98 per cent. of fiction or imagination deserves the prominence which this letter, with your kind permission, seeks to give it.—Yours faithfully,

E. L. RICHARDSON.

ACCUSE TRUSTED CLERK OF THEFT

Moose Jaw Jewelry Store Window Robbery Thought Done From Inside.

Moose Jaw., Oct. 27.—Daniel Butts, arrested in connection with the theft of jewelry, valued at $2,600, from the store of Harry Britton, a Main Street jeweller, came up for preliminary trial on Saturday afternoon, and was remanded for one week. He did not plead. Butts was the most trusted employee in the store and was the only clerk carrying the keys to the front door. Indications all go to show that the robbery was committed from the inside. J. McDonald, an ex-railroad man, arrested in connection with the affair, was released Saturday. None of the missing articles has been discovered.

SPORTOGRAPHY.

Vean Gregg, Great Cleveland Southpaw, 26 Today.

Vean Gregg, the giant southpaw twirler of the Cleveland Naps, will celebrate his 24 birthday today. His real name is Sylvanus, but everybody calls him Vean for short. Gregg was born in Chehalis, Wash., Oct. 27, and began playing ball with his brother Dave as soon as they had arrived at the maturity of "pants." When he had reached the age of 21, and was his own boss, Vean decided to become a professional ballplayer, and hired out to an independent club in Cleveland. But in 1909 he broke into league ball with Spokane in the Northwestern circuit, where he attracted the attention of the major league scouts. Cleveland paid Spokane $15,000 for the youthful twirler, but, instead of being fazed by the deal, Vean took the thought of playing in the main show, was haggled over the salary and eventually signed to play in the Cleveland park for the amount specified in the proffered contract. Youngsters are usually ready to accept any old terms in order to get a chance to shine in fast company, and Vean's independence was considered shocking and not at all befitting a busher by the time Gregg was sent back to the Pacific coast, this time to Portland, in the Pacific Coast League, with a string tied to him, by which the Naps had the option of recalling him at the close of the 1910 season. Cleveland recalled him in 1911, and this time the club was able to reach an agreement with Vean in the matter of compensation. The left-hander was one of the real pitching sensations of the American League. He went through his first year in the big league like a veteran, after which he settled down to putting the Naps in the first division. Vean has never been indebted to baseball for a living, having earned his way through college, and has always been independent when it came to a question of salary. In 1912 Gregg won 23 and lost 13 games, and in 1913 he has maintained about the same percentage of victories. Vean's brother, Dave, also a pitcher, joined the Cleveland club last spring, having been secured in a trade from Toledo, but he didn't accomplish much other than give Naps the distinction of a brother battery. Vean is one of the tallest pitchers in captivity, standing an inch and a half over six feet in his hosiery. It is to be noted that most of the Pacific Coast players who have achieved fame in the big leagues have been stepping six footers, notably Chance, Chase and Overall.

Transvaal municipalities in 1912 issued permits for the construction of buildings valued at $10,736,367.

NO SUCCESSOR WAS ELECTED TO PRES. HUERTA IN MEXICO

Sufficient Votes Were Not Cast to Constitute an Election—Catholic Party Has Lead, and Diaz and Running Mate Second—Huerta Will Increase Army.

Mexico City, Oct. 27.—As the result of the first election yesterday the indications were that not sufficient votes had been cast to constitute an election for presidency to succeed General Victorian Huerta.

No official announcement was made last night, but it was unofficially estimated, judging from the results in the capital, where it was expected the vote would be up to the average, that less than 10,000 of the 80,000 eligible voters in the republic went to the polls. There are said to be more than 2,000,000 eligible voters in the republic. It would be no surprise if congress, the members of which also were voted for yesterday, declared the elections void when that body is organized and revises the returns.

Manner of Voting.

The polling places, of which there were said to be 928, averaging one to a city block, were located in the entrance of buildings generally, but in some instances were set up on the sidewalks or the corners of the public squares. Each had a table on which were spread the tickets of the various candidates. From these the elector made his selection, signed, folded and delivered it to the president, who deposited it in the presence of the voter of the ballot box. The ballot box consisted of any sort of receptacle, from a pasteboard shoe box to a plush covered jewel casket or a glass jar, borrowed from a neighboring drug store. There was no secrecy about the voting. All the world could look on and observe what ballot was selected.

As the vote was deposited the number was checked on the registration list previously prepared through personal visits of a designated official to the house in his jurisdiction. It was not left to the volition of the eligible citizen to register. His name was on the list, and if he was entitled by residence, age or other requirements to cast a vote.

Manuel Calero, the liberal candidate, who was once ambassador at Washington did not vote. Instead he took his family early in the day into the country.

Frederick Gamboa, the candidate of the Catholic party, on the other hand, cast his ballot for Senor Calero. Neither of these candidates cared to express an opinion as to whether a sufficient number of ballots had been deposited to make the election effective.

Voters Indifferent.

Few of those who went to the polls took the trouble to vote for either senators or deputies.

Examples of lack of activity in voting, made at random after the closing of the polls at the places in thickly populated districts are: 11 votes cast out of an eligible 80; 12 cast of an eligible 75, and 27 cast out of an eligible 35. One suburban polling place reported 21 voters out of 80 eligible exercising the franchise. These figures are regarded as fairly representative of the voting in the capital. The nearest approach of any district in bringing out its full voting strength occurred in one block where 14 men were eligible. Thirteen of these men cast their ballots. The 14th man was in jail.

At 10 o'clock last night everything was quiet and absolute order prevailed.

Catholic Party Claims Lead

The leaders of the Catholic party claimed a long lead, although they were unable to estimate the number of votes polled for their candidates, Federico Gamboa and General Rascon.

If this claim is correct, it is generally thought that General Felix Diaz and Senor Requena ran second.

The liberal candidates, Manuel Calero and Flores Magon, had no printed ticket at their polling places, their constituents being obliged to write their names in blank ballots.

President Huerta did not vote. He spent the day at his Popotla suburban home.

A decree will be issued by General Huerta tomorrow increasing the army from 85,000 men, its alleged present number, to 150,000. General Huerta proposed such an increase some time ago, but the congress which he dissolved limited him to 80,000.

Since the deputies and senators are not subject to the election provisions governing the presidential election, it was said last night the choice for each is assured. It is assumed on the showing so far as known that the Catholic party will secure a majority of both chambers and senate.

There was no semblance of disorder in any quarter of the city. A few patrols were on the streets, but neither police nor troops had any but their usual duties to perform.

The polling places opened at 8 o'clock in the morning and remained open until noon, when the attendants closed the booths until three in the afternoon for the midday meal. They were re-opened at three and closed again at five o'clock.

From three to five officials, one of whom was designated president, were in attendance at each poll. These officials represented the various parties and assisted in the preparation of the ballot when necessary, but offered no coercion or suggestion as to how the applicant should vote.

Diaz Has No Chance.

Vera Cruz, Oct. 27—The few partisans of Diaz who have stood guard in his rooms at the hotel for the past four days also left for their homes in Mexico City, but a handful of supporters are still here subject to the orders of their political chief. The building is being closely watched by plain clothes men and police from points of vantage in the streets and on roofs.

General Diaz expresses the belief that no doubt the war department will grant his application for retirement, although a few of his friends point to the possibility that the answer may come in the form of an order for arrest. General Diaz said last night he realized he had no chance for election to the presidency. His plans for the future are not yet made, but he expects to establish a temporary residence in Vera Cruz.

Senora Diaz is not seriously ill, but sufficiently so to serve as an excuse for the day for delay in the promised return of General Diaz to the capital. Captain Vidaurrazaga's importunities eventually resulted in the frank declaration that he did not intend to go.

Took Only Casual Interest.

Only casual interest in the election was shown by Diaz, who accepted his defeat as a matter of course. The only incident personally touching him was the arrest of his brother-in-law, Leandro Alcolea, for alleged interference at one of the polls. Senor Alcolea protested against what he considered irregularities, and a policeman joined him in the discussion. An hour later the policeman had been made a soldier and Alcolea was in jail.

Anticipating reports that might be circulated that he spent Sunday in the American consulate, and therefore was not on Mexican soil on election day, General Felix Diaz signed before a notary last evening a statement that he had not left the city during the day. The election in Vera Cruz did not disturb the usual calm of the city, the only noticeable difference being the absence of the weekly bull fight, which was prohibited by the authorities in a decree announcing that there must be no demonstrations.

The official report of just how many votes were cast will not be made public for several days, but all Vera Cruz knows that the 22 polling places in the city were quiet and unfrequented spots.

SPLIT 40 CORDS AT AGE OF 85

Thankful to the Medicine That Gave Him Ability for the Task.

A VERY INTERESTING CASE

Few men of eighty-five years of age can boast of much else but poor health and failing strength. And such was the condition of Mr. Benj. Marsh, who is known to every soul in the neighborhood of his home at Lime Lake, Ont.

"Quite unsolicited," writes Mr. Marsh, "I wish to say how I have been bothered for years with stomach trouble. I tried everything I could think of without benefit. I was terribly afflicted with swelling and gas, and had much distress between meals. I tried everything I could think of, but without benefit. Then I was recommended Nerviline. My, but Nerviline did me a power of good—made a new man of me, so that within the last three weeks I have been able to split about forty cords of stove wood. I will always stick to Nerviline and will always recommend it, and would like to meet anyone and convince them if in doubt as to what Nerviline has done for me."

For sour stomach, nausea, belching of gas, cramps and sudden sickness at night, nothing is more helpful in the home, nothing saves so much pain and distress as Nerviline. Large family size bottles, 50c.; small size, 25c., at all storekeepers and druggists or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Elegance and Charm of Good Furs Exemplified in Our Great Display

The appeal of good furs is exceedingly strong with most women of good taste and discrimination. There is an elegance and charm in a well-chosen becoming fur coat or fur set that can not be duplicated by any other article of women's apparel—and a good fur affords a feeling of luxury that is a lasting delight to its owner. But furs must be carefully chosen. A proper regard should be had for both the style and the quality—and of course, the price should be right. In all these three essentials we assume the burden of responsibility. Whether you desire a modest Belgian hare set, a regal ermine or a luxurious mink, we shall endeavor to help you find what is becoming to your personality—and then we'll guarantee the article you decide to purchase—and will also guarantee that the price is the lowest in town for the quality.

STRIKE OIL AT QUEEN CHARLOTTE ISLANDS

Drilling for Coal When Large Pocket of Oil is Struck at Depth of 200 Feet.

Queen Charlotte Islands, Oct. 27.—In drilling for coal on the Armstrong and Morrison property about 22 miles from the mouth of the Yukon River, a large pocket of oil was struck at a depth of 200 feet in the new drill hole sunk this spring. The oil flooded the core barrel, but was not of sufficient quantity to prevent further drilling which will be continued for another 1200 feet. When the drill hole is completed a charge of dynamite will be exploded in the oil bearing strata to release any other wells in the vicinity.

The Changing Age

Girls and boys from 14 to 19 years of age undergo physical changes which tax their strength to the utmost and the strain is always apparent from pale cheeks, colorless lips, and tired bodies—sometimes eruptions of the skin and the utter lack of the ambition and animation which their younger years were filled.

Budding into womanhood and manhood, with the duties of school or business, demands concentration and nourishment which is readily convertible into red blood corpuscles, energy and strength, and the very best thing for this changing age is the medical nutriment in Scott's Emulsion—it possesses the rare blood-making properties of cod liver oil in a predigested form; hypophosphites for the nervous system with the healing, soothing qualities of pure glycerine.

Its nourishing force promotes assimilation, yields direct returns in abundant, red blood, fills hollow cheeks, tones the nerves, makes all good food do good, and does it in a natural easy manner.

The sustaining nourishment in Scott's Emulsion is so helpful to this changing age that it should never be neglected—every druggist has it.

REGARDING EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES.

Ottawa, Oct. 27.—An order-in-council has been passed to make more clear the penalty for breach of the new regulations governing employment agencies. The new clause reads:

The two ladies who will give the programme are artists to their finger tips. Madam Ethel Reese Burns captivated her audience at a recent reading, and Miss Lotta Cotterell Fleming is a singer of great ability. The programme is very effectively chosen, and with Major W. H. Watts at the piano as accompanist nothing is wanting to complete a great success. The programme is as follows:—Part I.: Reading, from Act I., Scene V., "Macbeth" (Shakespeare); songs, "A Wood" (Chaminade), "Bird of Blue (Edward German); reading, From Act V., Scene I., "Macbeth" (Shakespeare); Song Group From England (Alexander von Fielitz)—"Secret Greetings," "Dreams," "Anathema," "Resignation"; reading, From Act I., Scene II., "Merchant of Venice (Shakespeare); song, "Carissima" (Arthur Penn); reading, From Act IV., Scene III., "Romeo and Juliet" (Shakespeare), Part II.: Song, "Stars of the Desert" (Amy Woodforde-Finden); readings, "The Kentucky Cinderella" (F. Hopkinson Smith), "His Mother's Sermon," from "The Bonnie Briar Bush" (Ian Marlaren); song, "Il est doux, il est bon," from "Herodiade" (J. Massenet); reading, "Old Mists" (Anon); Scotch songs, "Ye Banks and Braes o' Bonnie Doon" (Anon), "Wi' a Hundred Pipers and a' and a' " (Anon); "God Save the King."

A meeting for ladies only will be held in the Westmount Methodist church, corner of Albany avenue and Twenty-eighth street, on Tuesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. The meeting will be addressed by Mrs. Livingstone, of Vancouver, whose talk on temperance at the Westmount Presbyterian church on Sunday morning and Westmount Methodist church on Sunday evening, was much appreciated. All ladies are especially invited.

The sudden death of Mr. Havelock Babbitt on Sunday has cast another gloom over the social circle of Edmonton. Mr. Babbitt has been the lieutenant-governor's secretary for some years, and was always in evidence at government house. In his official capacity, and being a brother of Mrs. Bulyea, he was more closely connected in all her social entertainments. Mr. Babbitt brought his bride from Toronto only a few weeks ago. In fact, Mrs. Babbitt received for the first time since her marriage last week. The many friends Mrs. Babbitt has made during her short residence in Edmonton will all extend their heartfelt sympathy to her in her great trouble.

Mrs. Joslyn Perie gave a jolly tea on Saturday in honor of her guest, Mrs. Fergussen, of Calgary. Mrs. de Sousa, Mrs. Perie's mother, received with them wearing a handsome costume of dark purple satin with heavy lace trimming. Mrs. Fergussen wore a copenhagen blue satin gown with chiffon sleeves and touches of Persian trimming. Mrs. Perie wore a peacock blue satin over a petticoat of gold and silver lace, the same lace forming the bodice. The tea table was centered with lace, a tall base holding pink carnations for decoration. Mrs. W. Jennings, Mrs. Harold Brown and Mrs. Eustace Cope did the honors for the first hour. Mrs. Henwood, Mrs. Harry Cooper and Mrs. Shaw taking the second hour. Miss Alice Cameron, Miss Belcher and Mrs. McHaffie assisted.

Mrs. Hector Landry was the hostess of a smart tea on Saturday for Miss Marjorie Beck. The tea table was abloom with pink roses. Mrs. Raymond Landry poured tea and Mrs. James Taylor cut the ices. Miss Cauchon and Miss Bown assisted. Mrs. Hefferman assisted Mrs. Landry in the drawing room. The hostess wore a pretty frock of black satin with touches and girdle of balkan silk. Miss Beck looked very chic in a tan silk crepe costume with brown fur trimming. She wore a large black velvet hat with aigrettes upstanding about the crown. The entertainment was most enjoyable.

MARIE M'FARLAND THIS WEEK AT THE EMPIRE THEATRE

Billy Gould and Belle Ashlyn as Funmakers and Jack Hazzard, Monologist.

Numbered among the American grand opera singers who have made good in both America and Europe is Miss Marie McFarland, who comes to the Empire theatre today with the mysterious Madame "?" as the headliner of the Orpheum vaudeville bill. They are remarkable vocalists whose knowledge of everything that is admitted to vaudeville from the expansive grand opera field is known to every lover of good music. Their repertoire is large and well selected.

A pair of fun-makers who are familiar to all vaudeville patrons are Billy Gould and Belle Ashlyn, who provide the latest and best songs, dances and patter. Knowing only too well the value of scenic and costume embellishment, Mr. Gould and Miss Ashlyn have made ample provision for dressing their turn in the most approved style possible.

To Jack Hazzard, monologist and poet, is the world indebted for many original sayings, as has been demonstrated in "Ain't it awful, Mabel?" which has been termed "the wail of a chorus girl." Mr. Hazzard is equally as clever as a monologist as he is as a poet, and in both roles his work is timely and well out of the beaten track. Austin Webb comes in "Your Flag and Mine," which is generously termed as an "Anglo-Teutonic incident," with an abundance of heart throbs and a good plot. Dupree and Dupree are trick bicyclists who really have something new to offer, and the Two Carltons are "phlegmatic gymnasts," who work with an ease and grace seldom seen in vaudeville. Imitations of various musical instruments as well as piano-playing of a new type are indulged in by Hyman Meyer, who is known as "the man at the piano."

ST. GEORGE'S CONCERT.

St. George's concert tonight bids fair to be one of the most succesful yet that this society has promoted. Mr. J. W. Foster has secured some of the very best talent. The old courtroom is expected to be filled. All "English or Welsh ladies and gentlemen desiring to enjoy a good social evening should attend early. No tickets required. Doors open at eight o'clock, old court room, 208 Jasper avenue east. Cars every few minutes from all parts of the city.

Aren't those Londoners who are decrying "rule by woman" sort of throwing things at the late Queen Victoria, argumentatively speaking?

Scene from "Queen Elizabeth" in which Madame Sarah Bernhardt will be seen at the Empress Wednesday and Thursday.

"JOYCE OF THE NORTH WOODS" AT THE EMPRESS

Beautiful Story of Love and Romance Containing Fascinating Features Shown.

The feature film for today and tomorrow at the Empress contains a dramatic story of the north woods in which romance and love are interspersed. "Joyce of the North Woods" is an intensely interesting picture, from beginning to end and describes many sacrifices of a man who becomes imprisoned for his brother and also gives up the girl he loves, who is afterwards married to the brother.

For Wednesday and Thursday the Empress management will offer a wonderful picture and the fact that Madame Sarah Bernhardt will be the chief person in the picture makes it all the more remarkable. The story of "Queen Elizabeth" is one of the strongest stories history has ever recorded and is reproduced in four parts. Sarah Bernhardt's interpretation of the famous virgin queen, Elizabeth, her marvellous intelligence and astounding dramatic powers, makes the historical incidents in the play as real as today and her faithful delineation of the lonely queen makes the original live again. All the pathos of Elizabeth's life and love, all her pride and vanity and the smiles and sorrows of her mingled fortunes throb and thrill in the compelling realism and magnetic mastery of Bernhardt's art. The flame of her genius has been breathed into the dust of Elizabeth's and the thrilling page of history that she wrote in blood and tears will be enacted with all the characters as much alive as the watcher.

The Brooklyn Times, commenting on the picture, said: "It was an event in moving picture development. The great actress seemed to walk before the audience and scenes of history were presented before the eyes as they occurred at the time of the great queen. It was both interesting and instructive."

MADAME "?"

Who comes to the Empire theatre the first half of this week with Marie McFarland, as the headliner of the Orpheum bill.

CONSIDERABLE COMMOTION CAUSED BY ELEPHANTS

Arrive in City Yesterday and Create Much Interest Among Pedestrians.

Yesterday afternoon considerable commotion was caused on Jasper Avenue when the four large elephants trundled along on their way to Pantages, where the act headlines the bill for this week. The appearance of the animals was so unusual in the city that every person stopped to watch the sight. The act has just come to this city direct from Chicago, arriving here last evening, and the performance the animals give is indeed a most wonderful one. As an example of sagacity it has not been equalled in animal training for many years, the various tricks that the beasts have been taught to perform being not only difficult but well done, and the work required to reach the proficient state can only be appreciated by those who have at one time or another made an effort to train some dumb animal.

Benson and Bell will offer an act innovating some odd dances that depart from the common place and will show some of the most up-to-date steps which have been successful in the English stage. Mr. Benson will also present his adroit delineations of English coster characters.

A bewitching young lady, Blossom Robinson, with her partner Billy Link, bring fresh from the centres of the eastern states some recent song and several fresh dance steps and the audience will have the opportunity of comparing the two styles of dancing, English and American. The Dunitrescu Troupe have a sensational bar and acrobats act which with Billy Link and Blossom Robinson completes the bill for this week.

AT THE MONARCH.

Surprising success attended the production of "The Heart of a Jewess" and "The Sorrows of Israel," feature pictures directed by Sidney Goldin and released by the Universal company, but it remained for "Bleeding Hearts" to depict a story on entirely different lines. This picture, which will be offered for the first time at the Monarch theatre today, is a dramatic story with emotional expression of an unusual nature, and the human note is general in its appeal. The results of this picture have exceeded expectations and as a masterpiece it will always be remembered by all who have seen it. Today is the last appearance of the picture, and all who enjoy really good pictures should not fail to go to the Monarch.

Thursday the Monarch comes forth with a powerful four-part sensational story entitled "Humanity," featuring John Lawson, England's celebrated delineator of Jewish characters. The story is engrossing, and was suggested to Mr. Lawson by a real occurrence which took place in Northumberland street (now Northumberland avenue), off the Strand, when two men fought to death, their struggles only terminating with the firing of the house. It is upon this real incident that the story is founded, with such elaborations as is natural to make a perfect stage production. John Lawson has appeared in his character of "Silvani" the Jew for many years, and it was only after great persuasion that he consented to enact his play for the "movies." The entire four parts abound in sensationalism, and without doubt, "Humanity" will be received with enthusiasm.

Children's matinees are being conducted daily at the Monarch, with admission at five cents until 5 p.m. This holds good any day but a holiday.

ART'S SACRIFICE.

"Art is long and time is fleeting"
Sang the poet of yesterday.
All he knew was work and trying—
Efforts great and little pay.

Art to him meant soulful soarings,
Inspiration, mind and heart;
He would tell you with assurance
"You must sacrifice to art."

This was long ago, my reader,
And if you're a maiden sweet
Progress quick you'll make, My Dearie,
If you dance in your bare feet.

CIVICS CAUSE ESKIMOS WORRY

Score First in Saturday Game —Eskimos Trying New Plays Win 18 to 6.

While the Alberta University rugby team was in Calgary Saturday afternoon delivering a little surprise package which was very unacceptably received by the Calgary Tigers, the Edmonton Civics' intermediate team was busy showing up the Edmonton Eskimos. The Eskimos promised the Civics they wouldn't hurt them if they would play a little practice game Saturday afternoon which, incidentally, would decide the city championship.

When the game started no one thought anything about what the Civics would do. It was merely a guessing contest on the side lines as to the magnitude of Eskimos' final score; so when Muirhead broke away three minutes after the beginning of the game something like a sensation was sprung. From that time on the game became interesting.

The Eskimos at the close of play had compiled 18 points to the Civics' six. The fact that the score was not larger is due, perhaps, to the fact that Coach White was working his men out on some new plays.

A youngster who looks good and who may after proper coaching develop into quite a football player appeared in the Eskimos' line-up. His name is Percy Hardisty. He showed a wonderful knowledge of the game for one so young and inexperienced, making several beautiful runs with the ball and kicking like a Texas steer. It is probable that Coach White will risk trying him out against the Tigers next Saturday. If such is the case you may place your money on the home team. Eaton worked at quarter for the Eskimos and it is likely that he will beat Conway to this place in Saturday's game, owing to the latter's inability to handle punts.

NEW YORK BEATS SOX.

Kansas City, Oct. 27—The New York Giants defeated the Chicago White Sox yesterday 6 to 2. White, first baseman of the Sox, lined out a three-bagger in the sixth, drove in two men and saved the team from a shut out.

CHAMPIONS PLAY WELL.

San Francisco, Oct. 27—Playing with good judgment and control, and missing nothing on the green, Edward Ray broke all records for the course Saturday at the San Francisco Golf and Country clubs links, making the 36 holes in 139 strokes. Harry Varden was second with a score of 143.

NEW ZEALAND TEAM IS AT LAST SCORED AGAINST

Had Maintained Unbroken Record Until Saturday When California Varsity Scored.

San Francisco, Oct. 27.—The New Zealand rugby team was scored on Saturday for the first time in its American tour, and the university of California Varsity rugby team did it. The score was 38 to 3 against California in the end, but three points look bigger to the collegians than the whole 270 rolled up by New Zealand in their seven games in California.

Good rugby by the best players which the All Blacks have met turned the trick. The New Zealand men were hampered by the dirt field as against the turf to which they are accustomed, and the feat of the day told upon them to some extent, but they cheerfully admit California's dash and speed was the main factor in the game, coupled with the tremendous strain the collegians have made in the contributing of English game in the three weeks that have passed since their previous battle.

REGINA DEFEATS SASKATOON TEAM

Saskatchewan champions outplayed Saskatoon team winning by 2 to 3.

Saskatoon, Oct. 27.—Outplaying their opponents, the Regina Tigers defeated the local Rugby team 10 to 3 before a large crowd here Saturday in a fast game, winning the provincial championship and emerging from the season's play without a single defeat. The score does not indicate the difference between the two teams, as the Regina aggregation showed a cohesion and a knowledge of the finer points which was lacking in their opponents. In the forward line particularly they show to advantage, being ever on the ball and playing with dash and judgment. At back Regina in the first half failed to make the most of their chances, mostly through over-eagerness, but under the lead of Wilson, who played a faultless game and to whose kicking much of the winners' success was due, recovered and got their stride. Oliver, captain of Saskatoon's team, retired at half-time with an injured shoulder, and his substitute made but a poor alternative. For Saskatoon the star was Griffith, whose catching and kicking was a feature of the game.

Varsity Gives Tigers Bad Scare in Saturday Game

Collegians Outplay Huskier Opponents in Final Stage of Game and Were Near Victory When Final Whistle Ended Game.

Calgary, Oct. 27—The Calgary Tigers, champions of Alberta almost since time began, and would-be champions for 1913, nearly bit the dust in defeat on Saturday before the Alberta University team. The score was 9 to 6 in favor of the home team. The play was just about as even as the score. In fact, it was somewhat closer than the score, and when time was called the University team had crowded the Tigers back to within five yards of the goal line, and had possession of the ball. Had the game been prolonged the University would have scored and perhaps won the game. It was a close call, and altogether too close for comfort.

The Tigers were unable to carry the ball across the 'Varsity goal line, making all their points through kicking. Only five times during the game were they able to make their downs against the lighter team. Had it not been for Doble's splendid kicking the 'Varsity might have won.

Wark had predicted a score of 50 to 0 or bust, probably just to show Edmonton that Calgary could make just a little better showing. It began to look at this period of the game, however, that the Tigers were going to have their hands full winning the game at all, not to speak of running up a showy score.

At the beginning of the second quarter the Tigers scored another rouge, and then the 'Varsity braced up and began to gain. They tore into the Tigers' line in great shape, and made their downs easily. The Tigers lost 10 yards for offside, and then Parson, right half for the 'Varsity, took the ball for a spectacular run 30 yards, being downed in the Tigers' 18-yard line. From this point, Parsons, after his team had failed to gain, drop kicked a pretty field goal, making the score 4 to 3 in the Tigers' favor. With the 'Varsity playing the better ball at this stage of the game, the fans became very grave. At half time the score remained unchanged, the Tigers leading by only one point.

At the beginning of the third quarter the Tigers went in hard, and Ross kicked for a touch in goal, making the score 5 to 3. Wark followed soon after with a field goal, making three more points. Calgary lost the ball to the 'Varsity on the Collegians five-yard line. Lopston, who attempted to carry the ball for the 'Varsity, was forced back over for a safety touch, making the score 10 to 3, in the local team's favor.

In the last quarter the 'Varsity outplayed the Tigers completely. The ball was carried into Tiger territory and kept there, Parsons kicking for two rouges during the period, which brought the score to 10 to 5. Then, near the close of play, when the 'Varsity forced the ball to the Tigers five-yard line and a touch down would have at least tied, and if converted, beaten the Tigers, time was called and the 'Varsity was cheated out of an almost certain victory.

POSTPONE CHAMPIONSHIP BOUT.

New York, Oct. 27—The 10-round bout between Leach Cross and Willie Ritchie, which was to have taken place here next Wednesday night, has been postponed to November 10. The setting back of the date is due to an injury sustained by Cross to a muscle over his ribs. A specialist who examined the fighter yesterday said that the hurt is not a serious one, and that Cross will be able to fight November 10.

EDMONTON MAY GET RUGBY GAME

There is a report from Calgary to the effect that the Tiger rugby team will agree to play the deciding of the championship with Edmonton Eskimos in Edmonton instead of Red Deer, providing Edmonton will guarantee $500. No official offer of this kind has been made, however, and until it is the management of the Eskimos will pay no attention to it. If, however, the Tigers' management makes an offer it will be taken up at once, as Deacon White of the Eskimos states that the local management would be willing to guarantee that amount.

DROP KICKS WIN GAME.

Chicago, Oct. 27—Pete Russell, quarter-back, Saturday wrecked Purdue's hopes for the conference championship, and earned a place among the University of Chicago immortals. His two drop kicks scored the only points in a hard fought game, which the Maroons won 6 to 0.

The Strathcona high school, in an attempt Saturday to wrest the Rutherford cup from the Edmonton high school, was defeated by the score of 2 to 1, the north side retaining the cup, token of the championship of northern Alberta.

The total acreage of Hungary is about 80,000,000, of which 28 per cent is in forest. Of this, 50 per cent. is owned by individuals or corporations, 20 per cent. by municipalities, 15 per cent. by the government and 15 per cent. by the church.

Spencer, the brute who is showing Chicago some new styles in murder, says he wants but two things, opium and death. They might kill two birds with one stone by giving him enough opium.

High class shows at $1 for best seats are promised in New York. No tariff bill has nothing to do with it. The "movies" are cutting in on big theaters' profits.

YALE BEATEN BY PRINCETON CREW

Tigers Outrow Yale Eight in Boat Race and Wins by Two Lengths.

Princeton, N.J., Oct. 27.—Princeton's eight-oared crew defeated Yale Saturday afternoon over a 1¾-mile course on Lake Carnegie by a scant two lengths. The time for the Princeton boat was 9 mins. 39 1-5 secs. That of the Yale eight was 9 mins. 46 2-5 secs.

The Tigers took the lead at the start by rowing a 40 stroke. Yale was doing the same. Princeton showed a very finished stroke and never broke it a bit.

At a mile and a quarter Princeton was leading by only one length and jumped her stroke to 36, while Yale's boat was splashing along at 33 to the minute. Both finished on a 36 stroke. The Princeton boat was ahead with one full length of open water between it and the Yale craft.

HAD A STROKE OF PARALYSIS

And Found a Cure in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

It is always better to prevent serious diseases of the nerves. There are many warnings, such as sleeplessness, irritability, headaches and nervous indigestion.

Prostration, paralysis and locomotor ataxia only come when the nervous system is greatly exhausted. Even though your ailment may not yet be very serious, there is a great satisfaction in knowing that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will cure paralysis in its earlier stages.

Mrs. R. Bright, 215 Booth avenue, Toronto, writes: "Two years ago my husband had a stroke which left him in a weak, nervous condition. He started taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills, and we saw the good results almost immediately. They have made a new man of my husband and we cannot speak too highly of them."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50, all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

ITALIAN POLLS LESS ATTRACTIVE THAN EXCURSIONS

Balloting Was Light on Account of Many Outside Means of Enjoyment

ONE PERSON WAS KILLED AND MANY WERE INJURED

In One Hundred Constituencies Fierce Battle Raged and Second Ballots Will Be Necessary Next Sunday.

Rome, Oct. 27.—General elections were held throughout Italy yesterday. The dispatches were not as grave as expected, though one person was killed and many wounded.

Numerous arrests were made in various quarters. The balloting was light, because on account of the springlike weather, the people preferred to go on excursions rather than to the polls. Results of the elections will not be known until late today, but already the government is assured of a large majority.

Giovani Giolitti, the premier, has been re-elected almost unanimously with the other members of the cabinet. Others elected include ex-Premiers Baron Sidney Sonnino and Luigi Luzzatti, the ex-Governor of Erythrea; Ferdinando Martini, the socialist leader; Leonida Bissolatti-Bergamaschi, the republican leader; Signor Barzilai and former minister of public instruction, Nunzio Nasi, who served a term in prison for embezzlement and later was elected several times to the chamber of deputies, only to have election annulled, in a hundred constituencies a fierce struggle was waged, especially between the socialists and catholics, and in these a second ballot will be taken next Sunday.

In some constituencies, particularly in the Venetian provinces ecclesiastics voted openly. At Cesena the bishop was the first to go to the polls.

So far as returns have been received, out of 508 constituencies, 197 liberals or ministerialists have been elected, as well as 23 moderates, 17 socialists, 14 republicans and 10 clericals. Prince Scipio Borghese and Prince Teano, both Radicals, failed of re-election in their Rome constituencies. Signor Turati, the socialist leader, was re-elected.

W. E. Macy, an Ossining millionaire, is a candidate for the office of superintendent of the poor in Westchester county, N. Y.

HARVARD WINS FROM PENN.

Cambridge, Oct. 27—Pennsylvania State College's first invasion of the crimson grid iron in many years proved unsuccessful Saturday, Harvard winning with comparative ease by 29 to 0. The crimson team, assaying a versatile offensive game, and standing up strong on the defense, scored four touchdowns, and a field goal, and captured the ball on downs on the five-yard line.

PRINCETON IS DEFEATED.

Princeton, N.J., Oct. 27—Dartsmouth fulfilled expectations Saturday afternoon when it won from Princeton in a contest which was devoid of real football by reason of field being a veritable lake of mud and water. Fumbling and complete failure to handle the ball, even on clean passes, was the prominent feature of the game.

London Stock Market

London, Oct. 27.—The stock market was dull Saturday. Mexican tramway shares hardened two points but the other Mexican issues were quiet. Dealers having adopted a waiting attitude. Home Rails and Rio Tintos improved a fraction.

American securities opened quiet and after a narrow movement closed undecided with prices from ⅛ above to ½ below parity. Money and discount rates were steady.

Chicago Grain Market

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Assertions that much smaller receipts than last season would form the rule for the rest of the present crop year, of course, depressed prices Saturday in wheat. The close was steady ⅛ off to a shade up, compared with last night. Oats varied from ⅛ decline to 1-16 advance.

Wheat bulls tookthe ground that the farmers were tenacious in regard to holding of winter crop and that with a spring yield particularly 100,000,000 than in 1912, the movement must hereafter be greatly diminished and the accumulation of the supplies from this time lower. Primary receipts Saturday did not amount to half those of the corresponding day a year ago and that the total for the week showed a similar falling off.

Sentiment against the bears did not manifest itself in the wheat pit until after the market had suffered an early set-back, due chiefly to the flattering outlook for the winter crop. Cable quotations, however, were relatively firm, and sellers found that all offers were being readily taken by strong houses. The chief obstacal to an advance was the fact that there was no urgent outside demand.

Oats were under pressure, but rallied a little with corn. Shipping demand was fair.

Toronto Stock Market

Toronto, Oct. 27.—Proceedings on the stock exchange were dull but that was a condition common to all the markets. Under the lead of those of London, traders everywhere appeared, in view of the elections in Mexico, to be awaiting developments, and with none too hopeful expectation. Dominion Iron seems to have overcome for the moment the fears that the dividend may be cut and sold up to 43 at the close. Dominion Iron was slightly easier at 86⅝. Canada Permanent advanced a point to 184. Barcelona was slightly firmer at 31. Toronto Paper rallied 2 points to 71.

New York Stock Market

New York, Oct. 27.—The small fluctuations in the stocks which occurred Saturday gave no indication of the trend of the speculative sentiment. The most obvious characteristic of the market was the absence of absorptive power. Trading was as usually light, but the small offerings made were sufficient to depress prices generally. The sharp upturn late Friday apparently had nothing behind it, except bear covering and there was a noticeable scarcity of buying orders when the trading began, as it was it was necessary to make general concessions to market Saturday. A few shares were depressed as much as a point, but the movement as a whole was held to fractional limits. The customary week end covering late in the session caused a slight upturn, which restored the list to about a parity with Friday's final range.

There was a general disposition to await development of the next few days as was shown by the lack of initiative on either side of the market. Recent advices from Mexico in particular were influential in restricting speculation. The bank statement did not make as strong a showing as had been expected. There was cash loss of $7,600,000 instead of the predicted gain of about the same amount and a small shrinkage in the reserve. Sterling exchange fell to a new low point for the year, being influenced by large exports of cotton and grain.

Bonds were steady. Total sales par value $695,000.

U. S. twos registered advanced 1½, the twos coupon 1¾, the fours ¾ and Panama twos 1¾ on call on the week.

Montreal Stock Market

Montreal, Oct. 27.—Further recovery in Iron which opened a small fraction higher at 40½ and advanced steadily to 42, touching the highest price in the final dealings, was the featureof Saturday's trading on the Montreal exchange. The tentative demand of Friday broadened out into more aggressive buyig and upwards of 2,000 shareswere taken onthe riseof 1¾ points against 100 the previous day. The rest ofthe market was quiet butwas steady in tone. C.P. R. finished at 228or a fractionalbelow the closing level Friday. Montreal Power on the other hand gained ⅝ to 210⅝ and closed strong at 211 bid. Brazilian eased off to 85¾ but rallied back to 86½ and finished unchanged on the day. Textile was among the firmer features, selling at 81 and closing 81½ bid against 80 the previous day.

Montreal Produce

Montreal, Oct. 27—Butter is quiet and receipts for the week 8,196 packages as compared with 8,427 for the same week last year. Eggs active with an upward tendency. Receipts for the week were 2,335 cases as compared with 1,843 a year ago.

Winnipeg Grain Market

Winnipeg, Oct. 27.—Trading was quiet at the local wheat market in options and prices steady on steady Liverpool cables. There was a good export trade doing through Buffalo, but little or nothing in Montreal with cash demand was good for 2 and 3 Northern wheat and offers heavy with poor inquiry for 1 Nor. Cash oats and flax were in good demand at slightly higher prices. Winnipeg wheat opened unchanged to ⅛ higher and closed ⅛ to ⅝ higher. Minneapolis opened ⅛ to ¼ lower and closed ⅝ lower.

Liverpool markets was steady and closed unchanged to ⅝ lower. Paris closed ⅛ lower. Berlin ⅝ advance; Budapest unchanged and Antwerp ¾ lower.

Cash oats closed ¼ to ½ lower.

Cash flax closed 1 cent lower for the three grades.

Comparative prices on Oct. 25 were:

TODAY IN DOMINION HISTORY.

Capt. James Cook, the immortal English navigator who played an important role in the English conquest of Canada and Newfoundland, was born 185 years ago today in the village of Marton, Yorkshire. After several years at sea, he joined the navy, and his efficiency and bravery soon won promotion to the quarter deck. Early in 1759 he was confirmed by the admiralty in the rank of master, and was appointed to the Mercury, a frigate which was one of the squadron dispatched to Canada to co-operate with Gen. Wolfe at the storming of Quebec. The French removed the buoys which marked the channel of the St. Lawrence, and to Cook fell the responsible task of making soundings or a new set of buoys. He piled the boats of the squadron to the attack of Montmorency, and conducted the disembarkation of the troops for the assault on the heights of Abraham. Later he published a chart of the channel of the St. Lawrence from Quebec to the sea. He was promoted to the Northumberland flag ship, and made use of the leisure there obtained to study mathematics and astronomy. In 1762 he took part in the recapture of Newfoundland. He then returned to England, but in 1763 he came out to survey the coast of Newfoundland, and in the following year was appointed marine surveyer of Newfoundland and Labrador. Meanwhile he had published a number of valuable charts, and while near Cape Ray he was able to observe an eclipse of the sun. The record of his observations, published in "Philosophical Transactions," showed much accuracy compared with other observations that Cook became famous as an astronomer. It was this which led to his appointment by the Royal Society as the leader of an expedition for the making of astronomical observations in the Pacific, during which trip he circumnavigated the globe and added vastly to geographical and astronomical knowledge.

October 27 is the birthday of Gen. Jacob Dolson Cox, American soldier and statesman, at Montreal, 1828. Alexander Milton Ross, Canadian naturalist, died on this date in 1897.

FIRST THINGS.

The first diamond discovered in Griqualand, South Africa, was found by the children of a Dutch farmer, who for a time used it as a plaything. The stone was sent to Cape Town, where its true nature as a diamond was recognized, and it was subsequently forwarded to the Paris exposition, where it was sold for $2,500. This valuable discovery soon led to other researches, and diamonds were unearthed in various places in Griqualand West, with the result that 42 years ago today, Oct. 27, 1871, the country of the Griquas, a mixed race sprung from Dutch settlers and native women, was formally annexed by Great Britain. Diamond hunting was at first confined to the banks of the Vaal river, but in the year of the British occupation mines were opened in the locality known as the "dry diggings," which has since received the name of Kimberley. In 1872 the world was startled by the discovery of the Stewart diamond of 288 3-8 carats. The daily output of the consolidated mines at Kimberley is now valued at $220,000.

Since the suppression of the opium traffic the business in cigarettes has increased rapidly in China, many of the natives finding the cigarettes an agreeable substitute.

The hand-operated sewing machine is the most extensively used in India. Apart from cheapness, it is particularly liked by the native people because of the simple mechanism.

EXPEDITION TO PELICAN GAS WELL WILL BE HARD TRIP

Cold Weather Will Be Most Unwelcome to Aldermen and Newspaper Men.

If today's storm reaches far enough into the North country, which it undoubtedly does, it will be very unwelcome to a little band of explorers that are "footing it" along the trail out of Athabasca Landing, the personnel of which is made up mostly of members of the Edmonton city council and newspaper men.

H. L. Williams, of the American-Canadian Oil Company, is piloting the party to the Pelican Gas Company's wells away back "to somewhere and gone," and a great part of the journey will have to be done on foot. One or two aldermen and others who went as far as Athabasca Landing with the party turned back when they found just what hardships the party would have to go through in order to reach the place. The trip will probably require 10 days or two weeks.

Several members of the party did not go prepared for such a trip, especially if the weather should turn cold, and it may go pretty rough with some of them.

The aldermen go for the purpose of inspecting the wells and ascertaining the possibility of securing gas for Edmonton from that source.

The members of the party are: Aldermen Livingstone, Walsh, Calder, Smith and Lundy; James Stewart of the Capital, R. Craig of the Bulletin and H. L. Williams of the Pelican Gas Co.

SOUTHERN ENTERTAINERS.

Never have southern music and southern melodies been so popular as they are today. Europe, Australia and America acknowledge the colored race to be the conquerors in the world of mirth, and readers of the Capital will be interested in the announcement that Williams' Colored Singers will appear in the McDougall church auditorium on Friday evening of this week. They gave 150 performances in England and every one of them was a success.

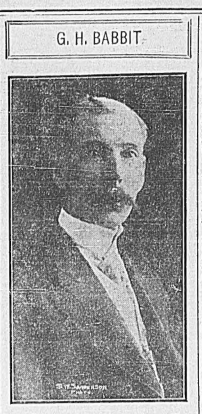
G. H. BABBIT



Late Private Secretary to Lieut.-Gov. Bulyea.

G. H. BABBIT DIES VERY SUDDENLY IN BRIDE'S PRESENCE

Former Secretary of Governor Bulyea Succombs to Heart Disease.

WAS ALONE WITH BRIDE OF TWO MONTHS AT TIME

Was Secretary to Governor from 1905 Until Six Months Ago—Was Brother of Mrs. Bulyea.

With no one with him but his bride of two months, G. H. Babbit, former secretary to Lieutenant-Governor Bulyea, and a brother of Mrs. Bulyea, died very unexpectedly at seven o'clock yesterday morning in his apartment in the Arlington.

Mr. Babbit was known to have been afflicted with heart trouble, which had become more aggravated of late, but it was not thought to have assumed such a serious nature. He was at his work in the parliament building as usual all of last week, and was on the streets down town late Saturday. He complained of considerable pain Saturday night and his physician, Dr. McGibbon, was called in at 10 o'clock. The doctor left him feeling better, and it was thought that his condition was no graver than usual. The final attack which caught on his death came so suddenly that Mrs. Babbit was unable to secure assistance before he died.

Mr. and Mrs. Babbit were married in Toronto during the latter part of August and came at once to Edmonton. Mrs. Babbitt was Miss Isabella Jenny of Toronto.

Mr. Babbit came to Edmonton in 1905 to assume the duties of secretary to Lieutenant-Governor Bulyea, a position which he retained until six months ago, when he resigned to accept the position of chief clerk in the new insurance department created by the last legislature.

Mr. Babbit was 51 years of age. He was born in New Brunswick, where he spent the earlier part of his life. Prior to coming to Edmonton he had spent several years in the railroad business in New Jersey. He leaves two sisters, Mrs. Governor Bulyea and Miss Pearl Babbit of Montreal.

The new Government house in Glenora will be saddened early in its history by the funeral, which will be held from there tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock. Burial will be in Edmonton cemetery.

FIRE INSURANCE RATES REDUCED

Extra Charge on Rates Made When Water Pressure Low Has Been Removed.

Secretary Fisher of the board of trade received a communication this morning from the secretary of the Western Canada Fire Underwriters' association, stating that in compliance with the request of the Edmonton board of trade the underwriters had decided to remove the 25 cents surcharge on fire insurance rates for Edmonton which was added to the rate last winter owing to the uncertain water pressure, which was responsible for several bad fires.

Mr. Fisher states that he has been communicating with the underwriters for some time, endeavoring to convince them that this extra rate was no longer necessary, as Edmonton has ceased to be troubled with poor water supply. He called their attention to the fact that the pressure has been steady and no bad fires have occurred from this cause recently.

The reduction of the rate by 25 cents per hundred will mean quite a little saving to Edmonton business men who carry large amounts of insurance.

ANOTHER PUBLIC MEETING TO FIGHT STREET NAMING

Citizens of North Edmonton Will Meet Tonight in Office of S. V. Parsons—Joe Clark to Speak.

A public meeting will be held in the office of S. V. Parsons on the Fort Trail in North Edmonton tonight to discuss the resolutions of the Norwood committee concerning the re-naming of Edmonton's streets, and other civic matters.

The meeting, which will be called at eight o'clock, is an adjourned meeting from last Thursday night. At tonight's meeting there will be speakers to represent both sides of the case. Joe Clark will be one of the principal speakers for those opposed to the new system.

NEWS OF THE CITY.

Edmonton's Prosperity Evident—Among the interested visitors to Edmonton last week was Mr. G. M. Walker, of the wholesale furniture firm of Walker and Cleff, of Wingham, Ont. Mr. Walker was on his annual business trip through the west and was delightfully surprised with the evidences of prosperity everywhere in Edmonton, notwithstanding the tightness of the money market during the past year.

The regular meeting of Hope of Norwood Lodge I.O.G.T., will be held in Eastwood Methodist church, corner of Kinnaird and Cleave streets, on Tuesday evening, 28th, at 8 o'clock. A full attendance of members is requested.

Libel Suit on Trial—The case of Arvie Quober, charged with criminal libel, was taken up in the supreme court this morning before Justice Simmons. The hearing of the witnesses for the prosecution took up the whole of the forenoon.

Eastern Excursions—The local C.P.R. office is in receipt of the special rates for the eastern excursion rates, which will be run to Ontario, New Brunswick, Quebec and Nova Scotia. Tickets will be good going December 1, and be for three months, and tickets can be extended two months extra by paying a small additional amount. Tickets also allow for liberal stop-overs, and are good going by Emerson and returning by Portal. In connection with these excursions, the C.P.R. will run a through tourist car to Toronto, connecting at Winnipeg with the new Queen city express, which shortens the time between Edmonton and Toronto by 12 hours.

Shows Steamship Sailings—At the local C.P.R. office there is a large plate card in the window showing the sailings of steamships during the Christmas season.

TRUE BLUE DANCE.

The Loyal True Blue association will hold a dance in the North Edmonton Orange hall on Tuesday night, October 28. Refreshments will be served by the ladies of the order.

TRANSFER CHARGE REMOVED BY C.P.R.

Board of Trade Secures Reduction Freight Charges For Shippers.

Before the high level bridge was completed the Canadian Pacific railway charged Edmonton shippers a transfer rate that amounted to about $10 per car on all non-competitive shipments carried across the river. Since the road has been using the high level bridge for its freight traffic the charge has been continued. The board of trade's attention was called to this injustice and Secretary Fisher communicated with the Canadian Pacific head office in regard to the matter, with the result that a notification was received from the company this morning stating that the charge would be removed immediately.

Prior to the completion of the high level bridge the C.P.R. was compelled to carry all freight in and out of Edmonton over the Edmonton, Yukon and Pacific line, which is a long, heavy haul. For this reason the transfer charge was made. With the completion of the bridge, however, the transfer charge was going into the company's coffers as clear profit.

SUFFRAGE MEETING WILL BE HELD ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Professor Alexander Will Deliver Principal Speech of the Evening.

On Friday evening next, October 31, a meeting will be held in All Saints' schoolroom for the purpose of devising ways and means for promoting women's suffrage. The principal speaker will be Professor Alexander, of the university of Alberta.

This will be the first movement of the kind in Alberta, and will be strictly non-partisan and non-militant. All those who believe that women should have the ballot are cordially invited to be present and the courtesy of the platform will be extended to whomsoever desires to speak.

Alberta has led the Dominion in nearly all progressive legislation, and it is hoped by those interested in the movement that the appeal of the women of this province will be heeded. Much educational work will be necessary and the primary object of the meeting will be to decide how this work shall be done. In all probability an organization will be formed to carry out the work, which will require time, patience and diplomacy in this cosmopolitan province.

Berlin, Oct. 27.—The German protected cruiser Nuremburg sailed today from Yokohama for Mazatlan on the Pacific Coast of Mexico, where she will remain during the disturbances in that country. The German cruiser Berlin will arrive at St. Cruis in a short time to relieve the cruiser ertha.

COTTON SHIP ON FIRE.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 27.—With the forward deck red hot from flaming cotton below, the Danish liner Sowwell raced into Halifax yesterday after an experience in mid-ocean closely rivalling that of the Volturno. With 11,340 bales of cotton on board the steamer left Savannah for Havre on October 15th, by way of New Port News. At 8 a.m. last Friday Chief Officer Thomas discovered the fire.

Captain Evans ordered the chief engineer to get a hole through the deck for a stream of water. "I also changed the course."

STAMPEDE IN TORONTO

Toronto, Oct. 27.—Frightened by an engine about 80 horses broke loose from the city stock yards, North Toronto, Saturday morning and started on a wild rampage through the city. Some of the animals found their way down Rosedale Ravine, while others were captured in College street, near Spadina Crescent.

FOR HIGHER FREIGHT RATES.

London, Oct. 27.—It is understood that large exporters in Manchester have privately combined to bring pressure on steamship companies regarding the high freight rates to Canada.
